Five Fugitives Still Missing In Michigan Prison Escape

Army of City, State Police Hunts Felons

Escapees Called Most Dangerous at Jackson; 8 Others Recaptured

DETROIT (AP)—An army of city and state police combed Detroit today for five fugitives from Southern Michigan Prison believed to be hiding out somewhere in the city's vast residential areas.

The five—described as among the most dangerous men ever sent to the prison—broke out of the huge penitentiary Saturday night. They cut their way to freedom through a steel grate of an under ground sewage tunnel.

The prison, world's largest walled penitentiary, is at Jackson, 80 miles west of here.

8 Recaptured

Eight other inmates who participated in the break were recaptured. Two women hostages were freed unharmed after being held 11½ hours by one fleeing group of "gentlemanly" convicts.

Police were particularly anxious to re-capture one of the five, Roman Usiondek, 37, described as a psychopath who may have sought freedom for revenge.

Authorities assigned guards to witnesses who testified at the trial which sent Usiondek to prison for life for a 1943 Detroit barrom slaying.

Circuit Court Commissioner A. Tom Pasieczy, special prosecutor at Usiondek's trial, was removed from the city for his safety.

Others Identified

The other fugitives are Edwar J. Emrick, 43, convicted of murder in Detroit; David B. Bousha, 28, serving 5 to 10 years for kidnaping in Crawford County and 3 to 6 years for a previous escape; Virgil Lane, 27, serving 10 to 20 years for armed robbery in Detroit; and Robert Dowling, 33, serving 1 to 15 years for breaking and entering in Detroit.

Offiical investigations sought to fix the blame for the big break.

Prison Warden William H. Bannan charged "negligence on somebody's part." He said in a formal statement "it is our duty to place the blame and let it fall where it should."

The convicts stole an acetylene torch to burn through sewer bars. Warden Bannan said other inmates declared the torch and an oxygen supply used by a construction company at the prison was easily accessible.

A complete lack of leads for some 24 hours after the felons were last seen in Detroits sprawl-

Tuesday's His 'Merry Christmas' Day

Tuesday's the big day for The Marion Star newspaperboys. Day after day throughout the year, in all kinds of weather, they bring the news of the world to their subscribers' doors. In recognition of their services they will receive Tuesday papers free as a Christmas gift from The Star. In this pic ture, symbolic of the event, Don Bosh (left), son of Mrs. Winifred Bosh of 632 Wood St., receives a bundle of "gift-wrapped" papers from Victor Meyer, Star city circulation ad viser. Tomorrow is the day, also, when you can show your appreciation to your newspaperboy. In the true spirit of Christmas it doesn't take much—a kind word, a friendly pat on the back. You can be certain he will be grateful.

French Still In Deadlock On President

Laniel Winds Up 22 Short on 8th Ballot, Loses Ground on 9th

VERSAILLES, France (AP) — The French Parliament failed again today to elect a president of the republic. It was the ninth ballot taken since Thursday.

Premier Joseph Laniel, a wealthy industrialist and the top contender, got 413 votes—a drop of 17 votes from the eighth ballot.

His Socialist opponent, Marcel-Edmond Naegelen, who has Communist support, got 365—a drop of 16 votes. Pierre Montel, who emerged as a last minute candidate, received 103 votes. Montel, 57, is a member of Laniel's Independent party from Lyon.

Laniel was only 22 votes short of victory on the eighth ballot in the Peoples Assembly Hall of the old palace of French kings, where the National Assembly deputies and senators have been trying to name a new president.

Wide Political Split

No other French presidential election had ever required more than two ballots. The protracted voting this time resulted from a sharp split, nearly down the political middle, in the Parliament. The split promised endless future troubles in the National Assembly at a time of crisis on crisis.

Parliamentary leaders grew increasingly shocked at the bitter nature of the showdown battle.

Laniel's support came almost entirely from the conservative ranks—landholders, wealthy industrialists, and rightist Catholics.

Behind Naegelen was an almost solid phalanx of Socialists and Communists, representing nearly all of France's working population.

Dangling unhappily between were slightly more than 100 members whose votes could swing in either direction to name the President.

Compromise Sought

Throughout last night, the unhappy hundred plus a considerable number of the two opposition goups sought a compromise candidate who could soften the sharp left-right division. By this morning, however, no such acceptable man had been found.

Observers figured the grave cleavage would be carried over into the National Assembly, which in the next months must send a delegation to the Big Four conference in Berlin, agree on a new government after the President takes office Jan. 17, ratify or reject the bitterly controversial European army treaty, rework France's economy and perhaps revise the constitution.

Will Discuss Ike's Plan in Secret Talks

White House Reports Soviet Note Also Asks More Data on Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today Soviet Russia has agreed to join the United States in secret negotiations on President Eisenhower's proposal for an international atomic pool.

Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, told newsmen the Russian government also has asked the U.S. for additional information on Eisenhower's Dec. 8 plan.

Declines To Add Details

Snyder declined to provide more information on the Soviet note, which Moscow radio said had been handed to American Ambassador Charles E (Chip) Bohlen in Moscow today.

In outlining his plan to the United Nations General Assembly, Eisenhower proposed that Russia join with the United States and other nations possessing atomic materials in creating an international atomic energy agency for peaceful development.

The President suggested each such nation contribute a reasonable share of atomic materials to a pool for such purposes.

Eisenhower also proposed details of the plan be worked out at secret conferences among the participating nations.

The first unofficial Soviet reaction to the proposal was unfavorable, but Eisenhower refused to be discouraged.

The White House, in its comment on that initial reaction, noted that it was unofficial and expressed the hope that eventually the Soviet Union would recognize the proposal as a serious and feasible first step toward atomic peace. Subsequently Moscow reported the plan was being given serious consideration.

Eisenhower Hopeful

Eisenhower told his news conference last week he still had received no official Soviet reaction but was hopeful it would come eventually.

He also said at that time that even if Russia rejected his plan he would go right on working for atomic peace.

Snyder told newsmen he first learned of the Soviet reply through news dispatches and that he went immediately to Eisenhower's office to give him the word. Secretary of State Dulles was with the President at the time.

Snyder indicated the President and Dulles already were aware of the development. Dulles' appointment with the President had been scheduled since Saturday.

Will 'Wait and See'

Democrats Demur On Ike's Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Democratic senators said today that what President Eisenhower calls his sound, progressive program will have to convince Democrats in Congress of its merits if it is to get their support.

While the Democratic comment included predictions that his proposals would not automatically be opposed on party lines, there were complaints about the exclusively Republican invitation list to last week's White House conferences on the legislative program.

Rap Secrecy

Some Democrats criticized what they said was secrecy maintained about the outcome of the conferences. The President announced the scope of the discussions, but apparently is reserving most details for his nationwide broadcast Jan. 4 and State of the Union message to Congress Jan. 7. He has said he plans to work on those late this week.

Some of his advisers have suggested a stripped-down program, limited to a few vital issues.

Whether or not this course is followed, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) predicted Eisenhower may encounter more trouble within his own party than from Democrats on some proposals.

Humphrey said in an interview he thought there would be more division among Republicans than among Democrats on foreign policy, state-federal relationships and foreign trade.

Say Brownell Overstepped

Some Democrats, he said, felt that Atty. Gen. Brownell "went beyond fair play" in the controversy over Harry Dexter White. Brownell said former President Truman promoted White despite FBI reports of evidence linking White to Soviet espionage. Truman said an appointment of White was allowed to stand to avoid revealing FBI investigations.

But Humphrey added he doubts the Democratic feeling on this issue will affect his party's attitude on legislation.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) agreed, in a separate interview, but said of the Eisenhower legislative program as it has been outlined so far:

"It doesn't seem to have a very large dynamo and it doesn't look like it is going to progress very far."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said in an 1 booalgd wtrvnI' e,ii eew i't an interview, "It will be a good trick if the Republicans can cut defense expenditures and have stronger defense, if they can cut taxes and still balance the budget and if they can expand social security while freezing the payments."

Appearing last night on a Du Mont television program, Monroney joined Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) in criticism of the administration for not including Democrats in the talks on legislative plans and for what Monroney called refusal of Republican leaders to make public the proposals they worked out.

Monroney said announcements made after the sessions gave the impression of "press agentry" and

U.N. Command Readies Last Appeal to 22 Red Americans

Lewis Believed Trying at Grip On Waterfront

ILA Chief To Confer With Leader of UMW; NLRB Vote Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis may be readying an open bid today to become new labor chief of the turbulent New York waterfront.

It was reliably reported that Capt. William Bradley, newly chosen president of the allegedly crime-ridden International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) was due here from New York to visit Lewis.

Bradley Visit Significant

Bradley's visit appeared obviously timed for its effect on the balloting tomorrow in a National Labor Relations Board election between the ILA, and new union which the AFL formed only a few months ago, saying its efforts to force a cleanup had failed. Crime probers have accused the old ILA of harboring criminals and a number of its officials have been indicted.

There seems little doubt that Lewis had supplied a $50,000 loan to help fight the new AFL union.

Catch-All District

The 73-year-old Lewis declined any comment, but it is reported that his brother and top organizer in labor sectors outside the coal industry, A. D. (Denny) Lewis, has met frequently with officials of the old ILA.

The reported loan led to speculation that the old ILA is destined to become part of District 50 of the United Mine Workers. Denny Lewis heads District 50. This is the UMW branch of all sorts of Lewis-organized workers outside the coal industry.

Lewis has been trying for some time to get a foothold in New York City. Brother Denny launched a campaign a few years ago to try to organize the city's taxicab drivers, but the plan flopped.

Consent for Allies' Message Granted By Commission

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U.N. Command today prepared a last-minute broadcast appeal to 22 American war prisoners who stayed with the Communists, even as the Allied Far East commander indicated hope has been abandoned that any of the 22 will return home.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commisison announced it had approved an Allied request to broadcast to the prisoners Wednesday—hours before the deadline for explanations to balky war prisoners.

The Allies staked their hopes of winning back prisoners on the broadcasts on a 12-page letter addressed to each man as chances for face-to-face interviews all but vanished in a welter of last-minute delays.

The Communists resumed their long-delayed explanation program today and chalked up their best score to date.

Red members of the Military Armistice Commission pressed again for an extension of the time for interviews beyond Dec. 23 during a 2½-hour meeting today, but the U.N. Command promptly rejected the request.

Gen. John E. Hull, U.S. Far East commander, told newsmen in Seoul that Americans in neutral custody have had both time and opportunity to change their minds. He indicated the Allies have given up hope that any will return home.

Posthumous Trial

Moscow Correspondent Feels Beria Already Shot

By TOM WHITNEY
Associated Press Writer

The Soviet propaganda machine is doing its utmost hour after hour to whip the Russian people into a frenzy of hate against Lavrenty P. Beria as the probable prelude to the official announcement that he has been shot.

Beria and his six alleged accomplices may already be dead.

Dispatches since Saturday show an intense nationwide campaign of denunciation and vilification of Beria has been going all over the U.S.S.R. At all these meetings—organized and directed, of course, from Moscow—speakers demanded the death sentence for the "criminal." Thus the end of the Beria case was approaching.

But the real question was whether the fallen Soviet police chief was not in fact being tried posthumously.

The law under which his trial was ordered provides a procedure which might mean that not even the judges of the Supreme Court passing sentence on Beria and his associated would know actually whether he was still living. This trial procedure has the defendants tried in their absence and in secret.

Why did the Soviet government announce this procedure for his trial if Beria and the other defendants were still alive? One of the purposes of the revival of the Beria case nearly six months after his arrest was obviously to convince Russians of his guilt.

The terms used in the mass meetings to denounce Beria were highly reminiscent of those used

Free World's Trading With China Falls Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Figures show free world shipments to Communist China on the downgrade in the second half of this year.

Foreign air-Commerce Department statistics estimate exports to Red China from non-Communist nations at 18½ million dollars in July and $19,300,000 in August. The monthly average in the first half of the year was $27,100,000.

Government sources think figures will show a decline in free world-Red China trade for the entire latter half of 1953.

One reason is the probable end of iron and steel shipments from France and West Germany, which Commerce Department estimates put at more than two million dollars a month between January and June.

Even more important is the decline of Communist Chinese buying from the British colony of Hong Kong, their most important trading partner in the free world.

Hong Kong's sales averaged more than 10 million dollars a month in the early part of the year. The July-October figures ran less than half that.

The recent decline is laid to a slackening of Chinese demand for antibiotics, perhaps because of the end of fighting in Korea.

Britain itself ranked fifth in shipments to Red China for the first half of 1953. British experts think the figure for the whole year will reach about $17,400,000, most of it in wool, chemicals, textiles and textile machinery.

510 Holiday Traffic Deaths Are Predicted

CHICAGO (AP)—The Christmas holiday weekend traffic this year may kill 510 Americans.

The figure was estimated by the National Safety Council today. The estimate covers the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday.

But, says Ned H. Dearborn, as many as 110 of the potential victims might be spared to enjoy life in the new year if motorists take the spirit of Christmas with them when they drive.

"The probable traffic death toll can be cut to 400 or less if everyone will say 'Merry Christmas' with his driving," Dearborn said.

He suggested four precautions:

1. Don't drive if the weather is bad.
2. Start early. Take it easy and allow extra time.
3. Always give the other fellow a break.
4. Dont drink if you drive, and watch out for others who may not be as wise.

Maj. Gen. Kreber Has Breakfast With Lausche

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche was host to Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, commanding general of the 37th Division at Camp Polk, La., at breakfast at the governor's mansion today.

The occasion added weight to reports Kreber would return to his post of adjutant general of Ohio.

He was adjutant general when the 37th Division was alerted in September 1951 and he resigned to enter federal service.

First City Manager Picked in Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Delaware named its first city manager today. He is Robert Mott, 32, of Colorado Springs, Colo., selected from among 40 candidates for the job.

Delaware begins operating under a charter (city manager) form of government Jan. 1.

Voters approved the charter government two years ago.

Gifts Would Cheer Family Of Injured Man

This is one of a series describing families and individuals listed with "Give A Christmas" clearinghouse sponsored by the Junior Service Guild at the Salvation Army. Any organization or individual wishing to contribute may obtain the name of a needy family by calling the clearinghouse secretary at 3-2415 before Dec. 24.

Mr. and Mrs. B, with practically no income now because the father is hospitalized, have no means of supplying Christmas joy for their three pre-school age children.

Mr. B. recently was involved in an automobile accident and now is a patient in the hospital. From all appearances, the father will be disabled for a period of several months which will naturally cut off the income for the family.

The children are a daughter, 5, a son, 3, and another daughter, 2. They need clothing and also would like to have dolls and a few toys for their entertainment. Food for the entire family would make this holiday season a much happier one.

Stratocruiser Plays Role in Double Rescue

HONOLULU (AP)—A four-engine Tokyo-bound Pan American Stratocruiser escorted two disabled planes to safe landings at Wake Island today in a double "rescue," a Pan American spokesman announced.

One of the disabled planes was an Overseas National Airways DC4 flying under military charter from Honolulu to Wake. It feathered its No. 2 propeller 700 miles east of Wake and radioed for help.

The other was a Navy PBM amphibious search plane which left Wake in answer to the distress messages from the DC4.

The PBM began losing oil from its starboard engine 200 miles out of Wake. A Pan American spokesman said it messaged that it might be forced to make an emergency landing in the Pacific.

The Pan American Clipper Nightingale was refueling at Wake when the distress signals came. It left immediately to provide assistance, the airline spokesman said.

The stratocruiser picked up the PBM one hour out of Wake and flew with it as it limped to base at an altitude of 600 feet.

The airliner then picked up the DC4 and shepherded it in to a landing about 30 minutes later.

Tiffin Industrialist's Conviction Is Reversed

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, today reversed the conviction of C. O. Hanse, a Tiffin industrialist, on a charge of attempting to evade payment of personal income taxes.

Hansen was convicted in the U. S. District Court at Toledo in June 1952 of having attempted to evade payment of approximately $71,000 in income taxes for the years 1945 and 1946. He was sentenced to three years in jail and fined $20,000.

The Court of Appeals in reversing the conviction, upheld Hansens plea that the lower court erred in not instructing the jury on how circumstantial evidence should be considered in determining the guilt or innocence. The case was ordered re-tried.

Retreat Into the Past

'Mama', the slightly gelatinous study of a family of Norwegian immigrants, has passed its 200th performance on television which makes it slightly less than four years old. For television, that's a very great age.

J. CROSBY

In a recent interview, Peggy Wood, who as Mama, has been making with the Norwegian accent ever since the series opened, declared that the success of "Mama' was largely attributable to the quiet charm of the era just before the first World War. Chilidren in particular, she said, were enchanted by this age of innocense whose peace and security they have never known.

SHE'S PROBABLY GOT something there. Nostalgia becomes salable in almost direct proportion to the parlous state of the world — an aphorism you might set down as Crosby's Third Law. The more troubled we get, the happier we are to retreat into the past.

In fact, "Mama" now has a running mate, "Life With Father," so you can sup at nostalgia twice a week instead of just once. "Life With Father", a fairly recent entrant (CBS-TV 7 p.m. EST Sundays), is for my money an infinitely subtler and funnier and more palatable dish of nostalgia than "Mama" ever was. It is a live show from Hollywood which rather embarasses me. I have from time to time grumbled that Hollywood couldn't seem to do anything as well as we could do it here in the East.

I'M AFRAID I'll have to take it all back. "Life With Father" could hardly be improved on here or anywhere else. Some of the credit must go to Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, who wrote the long - lived play, and Katherine Day, widow of Clarence Day Jr., who wrote the book, and who are acting as editorial advisers and presumably insisting on standards of taste and decorum a great deal higher than those that prevail on, say, "Life of Riley."

Father Day is one of the most interesting and fully realized characters around, largely because his son was a very perceptive, detached and honest writer (who, incidentally, inherited a good many of his father's crotchets and therefore understood them thoroughly.)

FATHER DAY WAS a male tyrant — which in itself makes him a bit of a novelty in this era of skirted dominance on television families — but he was also a man of taste and integrity who insisted on the smallest perfection of detail.

"There's nothing I like better than a slice of bass when it's properly served," he announces in one of these things, "It wasn't properly served." That small explosion — a difference of opinion with the chef of the club over whether a slice of bass should be served with or without garlic — was enough to service a whole half hour show.

Right away, you detect the fact that not only the nature of the problems in the 1880s but also the size of them differ sharply from our own. The whole point at issue was whether Father was entitled to an apology from the club chef—or whether he ought to make one to the chef — and it was labored with as much passion as we reserve for triple murders.

FATHER CAN ALSO GET wonderfully steamed up over the maid's neglecting to put matches by his favorite chair. In this day and age — when the possession of any maid at all, especially one who can even remember your name much less the matches is remarkable — this sort of thing is as close to Alice In Wonderland as we can get without straining the bounds of credulity.

"Life With Father" is on all counts in very good hands. It is sponsored by Johnson's Wax which has a splendid record on both radio and television for programs of a high order. It is produced by Fletcher Markle who used to produce "Studio One." And its leads, Leon Ames and Lurene Tuttle, as Mother and Father Day, while not quite in the class of Howard Lindsay and Dorothy Stickney who played the roles on the stage, are very good indeed.

The settings of the Day town house in New York in the 1880s, with its wierd and ridiculous clutter of grandfather clocks and rubber trees and portraits of ancestors and cameos and horrible lamps, is absolutely wonderful.

Dry Christmas Parties Seen in Capital Offices

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may be a dry year for Christmas office parties in government buildings—the drought already has reached the State Department press room.

The State Department Correspondents Assn. called off its traditional Christmas party, usually attended by top officials, when Under Secretary of State Donold B. Lourie sent the newsmen word the ban on liquor would extend into the quarters they use.

All office parties in State Department divisions will be nonalcoholic. And there were signs the same rule would apply in other government departments.

Moscow Says Ike Justified in A-Bomb Fears

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia said today President Eisenhower "quite justifiably" had emphasized the world dangers unless governments adopt measures against the race in atomic armaments."

Moscow radio broadcast an official Soviet government statement on President Eisenhower's recent United Nations speech proposing a world atomic pool for peaceful uses.

The statement, handed to U.S. Ambassador Charles Bohlen in Moscow by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said.

Quite justifiably the U.S. President emphasized the danger for the peoples of the world of the situation which is being created unless governments adopt measures against the race in atomic armaments.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts were actively higher today in a stock market that displayed improvement in most areas.

The best gains came to between 1 and 2 points, but they were rare. The usual advance or decline was a small fraction.

Aside from the better aircrafts and the sagging steels, there was little pronounced group movement in the stock market.

Among higher stocks were Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Gruman Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, DuPont, Westinghouse Electric, Johns - Manville, and United Air Lines.

Lower were Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, Willys - Overland, Southern California Edison, Phelps Dodge, Union Carbide, International Paper, and American Can.

All to the Good

There is no issue between newspapers and radio over a White House decision that recordings of presidential press conferences will be made available for broadcasts from time to time.

On the contrary, newspapers now will be able to enjoy a privilege they have been denied by tradition — direct quotation of press-conference remarks. Since it will not be known in advance which conferences are to be made available for broadcast, this will lead to direct quotation of all press-conference remarks.

It will lead, also, to closer reporting of the context of these remarks and in many instances to the identification of the correspondents asking questions. These things have a direct bearing on both accuracy of reporting and accuracy of understanding.

Newspapers are jealous of the job they do in telling the people about their government. They will cooperate in any plan designed to give their public a more comprehensive picture of the presidential state of mind.

It is no secret that President Eisenhower has not been happy about his treatment by some members of the press. It is obvious that the decision to release recordings of presidential press conferences from time to time was made in the light of his natural desire to protect himself from treatment which non-offending members of the press have resented as much as he has a right to resent it.

Anything which adds to the people's knowledge of government is all to the good. If the occasional release of recordings serves that purpose, their regular release would serve it even better. For many years, every presidential address has been made available for broadcast. There is no reason why presidential answers to press-conference questions shouldn't be handled the same way.

Truer Words Department

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana qualified for honorable mention in the truer-words-were-never-spoken sweepstakes whn he told the American Farm Bureau Federation the other day that farmers "have had too many top-level decisions on what they ought to want and ought to think."

It is Halleck's notion that not enough attention has been paid to what farmers, themselves, want and think. Naturally, he is trying to sell them the idea that Republicans are going to try to do this — and have been making a fair start with Secretary of Agriculture Benson's candid comments.

Benson reflects for the first time the misgivings of many farmers about the ultimate effect of government subsidies, the unwieldy production surpluses the subsidies have created and the production controls which sooner or later must be the penalty for price supports.

The impact of Benson's candor can best be judged by the violence of his critics. They realize the most explosive thing in politics for the next few years might be independent thinking among farmers — the only large minority in the United States with an established tradition of self-reliance and political bipartisanship.

Rep. Halleck's challenge to people who have been dictating to farmers instead of listening to them will get no attention in the cities but it will be noted in every farmhouse in the United States.

U.S. Change of Pace

Secretary of State Dulles seemed quite explicit in discussing North Atlantic Treaty Organization problems in Paris, that unless France should participate in the European Defense Community the U.S. would give sober thought to revising our foreign aid program and the tenure of our protective troops in Europe.

However, at prior times, the secretary has said our troops would stay in Europe regardless, and our foreign aid to our actual or potential European friends is not a club at all.

The West Germans, realists seven days a week, and already committed to the joint European army to oppose Russia, which is the basic factor of the EDC, were puzzled at first about our foreign policy. Yet Chancellor Adenauer has conceded dryly that he expects most U.S. troops to be withdrawn from Europe if France does not ratify the EDC treaty and consent to putting her troops alongside Germans as a symbol of a show of strength against Soviet Russia.

The long - heralded Bermuda conference seems to have neither settled nor clarified much of significance, although Sir Winston Churchill subsequently has begun applauding the basic European Defense Community concept—quite a concession to reality, considering that the more feverishly the U.S. clamors for something the more inclined is Britain to stay in the middle of the road.

Whether they are clubs, and whether they are really being shaken, our foreign aid and the large safeguarding forces we keep in Europe do have a club effect. Yet there is so much equivocation we may have to wait for the Big Four parley in January to get our policy straight.

'Amateurs' De-Mothballed

By Martin S. Hayden

Ike's Patrons Reorganize To Buck 'Old Guard'

As President Eisenhower works to sell his proposed legislation program to Republican congressional leaders, the "political amateurs" who in 1952 contributed to his nomination and election reorganized to offset expected GOP Old Guard opposition to the President's plans.

As half of a White House-directed, one - two political punch, the old "Citizens for Eisenhower Committee" is being demothballed for a new political job as the "Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee." Its avowed purpose is to campaign actively for those GOP congressional nominees —and only those—who consistently support the President.

To round out the new political drive, word has gone out from the White House that Cabinet members are to spend more time on the campaign hustling selling an Eisenhower political philosophy of "moderate liberalism." Especially, the Cabinet's three most experienced politicians — Postmaster General Summerfield, Attorney General Brownell, and Interior Secretary McKay—have been given marching orders for the new offensive.

The revived citizens committee has opened headquarters in the DuPont Circle Building in Washington, with the specific approval of the President and the advance pressing of Republican Naional Chairman Hall.

James L. Murphy, a youthful California businessman has taken over its direction from the co-chairmen who headed it last fall: Mrs. Oswald B. Lord of New York, a U.S. delegate to the United Nations, and Walter Williams of Seattle, now undersecretary of commerce.

The group is resuming operation on the basis of their 1952 convicoions that "mossback" Republicanism will not attract votes and that the GOP is essentially a minority party which must have the support of independents and weaned - away Democrats if it is to continue in power.

Murphy, a junior executive on leave from W. R. Grace & Co., has come to Washington with claimed examples — the recent GOP congressional defeat in New Jersey and the Republican win in California — to "prove" their point.

The committee's plan of action is based on special works in 86 of the nation's congressional districts where the winner's margin in 1952 was 5 per cent or less. Of these districts, 46 were won last fall by Democrats and 40 by Republicans. Seven of the winning Democrats and 10 of the Republicans won with a margin of less than 1 per cent.

Under the plan of action agreed upon with Hall, the citizens group will not participate in primary elections lest they tangle with the regular Republican machines. After the primaries, however, they will test the GOP nominee on the basis of his Eisenhower support and go all - out behind those who pass the test and who apparently need independent votes to win.

The political theme for Cabinet members sent to campaign is the same which, it was learned, President Eisenhower is preaching these days to congressional leaders: "The Republican party drafted a platform which we must carry out."

Their orders to take to the road are based on a White House conviction that the new regime has done a good job of government administration but, so far, a poor one of selling the public on their accomplisihments.

Sore Throat Is Serious

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Duke University medical specialists say a child's best safeguard against rheumatic fever is quick treatment of any "strep" throat. Rheumatic fever usually follows certain types of sore throats, Duke doctors say.

"This disease and its complications kill more American children aged 5 to 20 than any other cause except accidents," said Dr. Jerome S. Harris, professor of pediatrics.

Uppers and Lowers

By TRUMAN TWILL

Until the W. Lloyd Warners, Mister and Missus, laid it on the line in a study listing the levels of American society, I never had known where my hardy little band of survivors belonged.

The Warners use six pigeonholes to file all their contemporaries—the upper-upper, lower-upper, upper-middle, lower-middle, upper-lower and lower-lower.

This is the old three-way cut with a two-way division inside each cut. The lower-lowers are the kind we have always with us—the people who have given up and are pretty well out of it. Their children may climb out of lower-lowed some day but the old folks are fresh out of steam.

The next highest class is the upper-lower. Here is where social and economic history is being made in the United States because this class is disappearing. It used to be the proletariat that European revolutionaries dreamed of organizing—people who worked with their hands but had nothing to lose but their callouses.

But today, in the United States, the upper-lowers keep on climbing until they reach the lower-middle, where most of us hang out. We're the ones who do the work, all right, but we do it pretty much on our own terms—and we're not asking for anyone's pity.

We don't need to, because we're close to a third of the population.

We're always a little short on money and mostly we're a little short on knowing how to gang up to get what we want. But we're long on hope. We send our kids as far as they can go in school, or as far as our money holds out, whichever fluffs out first. And we can always point to Brother Amos or Cousin Emil who went all the way and became a professional man or maybe some kind of a tycoon.

When that happens Amos and Emil are in the upper-middle, the professional, prosperous, managing class—the ones who bore you still with stories of how hard they worked to get where they are. But they have a right to be proud because they're the most impressive product of the republic. They made it up out of the mines the hard way, like Horatio Alger's heroes. They're the fat of the land.

According to the Warners, they constitute about 10 per cent of the population.

The two halves of the upper class in the United States put together make about a 2½ per cent handful. The lower-uppers are the ones who aspire to become the upper-uppers in maybe one more generation. They have everything it takes except the scars from their first encounter with inheritance taxes. They're what the French call the nouveau riche, with all the handicaps that go with that circumstance. Having what they set out to get, there's nothing left to conquer but the Social Register, where the upper-uppers live.

The upper-uppers are the ones who've had it so long they aren't impressed with it any more. Occasionally one of their siblings, to show how casual he or she can afford to be, go all the way around the circle and drapes a loving arm around the bent shoulders of some lower-lower to prove there's no hard feelings.

The Warners have done a workmanlike job. There's only one conspicuous omission in their pigeonholes. They have provided no place for filing preachers, teachers and others who take care of the ethics, culture and idea work of America, receiving nominal pay but getting credit for being more valuable than dime-store heiresses in the scheme of things.

They belong in lower-middle—specialist category.

Independent Commission on Spies

By Edward K. Nellor

Pressure is being directed at Congress and the White House once again to remove investigations of Communists and subversives from the political arena by appointing an independent commission.

At the moment there is little likelihood that Congress will relinquish its present powers in this field, or that the White House and Justice Department expect it to do so.

The proposal has always drawn a large yawn from prominent members of Congress on the Republican side of the aisle, along with a number of Democrats active in the Red investigative field, such as Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada.

Americans for Democratic Action, frequently labeled left-wing by its critics, fired the opening gun in the renewed campaign recently.

The general idea is that a non-political commission, patterned after the Canadian royal commission which investigated the Igor Gouenko spy case in 1946, would be appointed by the President to take over all anti-Communist investigations of Congress for at least two years.

THE GIMMICK, which draws the fire of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Department of Justice and such congressional leaders as Sen. William Knowland (R., Cal.), is that, according to its promoters, the commission would have complete access to all FBI file data.

This feature alone is enough to discredit the idea among most members of Congress, since it is a long established custom that officials, and only a few at that, are granted access to data collected on suspected disloyal American or Soviet agents.

An attempt by former President Harry Truman to set up a non-political, anti-Communist investigative commission met with disaster when Congress refused to allow members to serve without giving up their outside pay while working for the government.

The plain truth is that Congress does not want outsiders over which it has no control snooping among official secrets, no matter how upstanding the citizenry on the commission.

SEN. HOMER FERGUSON (R., Mich.), Karl Mundt (R., S. D.), and Charles Halleck, House majority leader, all active in anti-Communist probes in the past, have repeatedly expressed their opposition to the idea.

Knowland refers questions on the commission idea to previous public utterances, until after the GOP - White House legislative strategy meetings. He is on the record, however, as being opposed to meddling with any congressional prerogatives, investigative or otherwise.

Since 1948 congressmen have been denied the right, under executive order, to examine government loyalty files. The rule has been waived on occasion, but, in general, former President Truman and his aides did everything possible to keep congressional hands off such data.

There are indications that the Eisenhower administration is going to relax this presidential edict, which, if true, will relegate to the wastebasket current pressure for another try at investigative commission.

Recently Prof. Harold E. Winkler, of the California state federation of teachers, asked for an "investigation of the covert activities of the FBI," and called for a committee of retired judges to do the job. His suggestion follows the ADA proposal.

WINKLER HIMSELF has been under fire for refusing to sign a faculty loyalty oath and was dismissed. He was reinstated when the California Supreme Court ruled the oath unconstitutional.

The fact that Congress is suspicious of commission proposals when uttered by individuals and organizations who have been subject ot left-wing controversy will have its impact on the White House as the President and his aides confer with congressional leaders.

If Congress wants an independent commission to do its investigative work it could probably have it. If it does not, and GOP leaders have indicated that the idea is preposterous, then there is little chance of the White House trying to shove it down collective congressional throats, irrespective of the strength of a pressure campaign from any source.

Ike and Civil Defense

By MARK DANA

A man reason for the summoning to Washington of 175 representative large-city mayors for a discussion of civil defense was the conviction in many quarters that most American communities are doing very little about their defense, and most citizens are quite apathetic about the matter.

In his address to the city heads, however, President Eisenhower laid upon community officials everywhere the responsibility of planning the protection of their own local citizens against a possible aerial attack by an enemy.

Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson often has voiced the same plea, and in a sense, warning. All persons connected with civil defense have been dismayed at the lethargy of the general public. For instance, while it has been easy to get volunteers for civil defense high offices carrying impressive titles and stature and administrative jurisdiction, and while the relatively few zealous plane watchers and defense control center staffs have been dramatic in their fervor, the routine, lowly and work-horse civil defense functions find relatively few takers.

Apparently the President was trying to build a fire under municipal authorities everywhere, in reminding the mayors that while the cities of a few of them are considered primary targets in case of an air attack, any community would be a potential objective of a dropped bomb or of inside sabotage.

He earnestly told all the nation's city officials, via these assembled mayors, they have a duty to exercise "ordered haste" in defense preparations and training, lest a day of real war alert should throw their citizenry into a "panic." These words are not to be considered lightly.

From Our Readers

To The Star:

As everyone knows, we are rapidly approaching the holiday season with joyous anticipation of Christmas and New Year celebrations. This is as it should be. However, there is one feature of the occasion that causes all to regard its approach with "fear and trembling." I refer to the matter of fast and reckless automobile driving on our highways.

I would not haazrd an estimate of the number of lives that will be lost, much less the number seriously injured, as well as property damage over the nation within the next few days. However, anything that can be said or done to lessen this frightful holocaust I feel is worth a try.

This leads me to say I heard a slogan a few days ago that has caused me to give it careful attention. And since the holiday season is a good time to put good resolutions into practice, why not start now?

The slogan reads as follows: "The best place to practice the Golden Rule is behind the steering wheel of your own car." I have found it not only makes for safety but it makes one feel better inside.

Try it, you will like it. Yours for safe driving.

After reading your article about good neighbors both on E. Center St. and N. Greenwood St., let me tell you we also have a good neighbor on our street.

He is Harry Savage of 261 Elm St. He has cleaned our walks every day both winter and summer and is considered a special neighbor.

He does not have a tractor. All he has is a broom and a snow shovel, which makes his work much harder to do.

I know he does this work for us because he loves us as his neighbors, as we love him. Don't you think he deserves a big orchid too?

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

When the Indians came to a cabin of an early Marion County settler they walked right in without ceremony or invitation. If they were not cordially received they were greatly offended and would leave marking the settler as a "very bad man." They would never sleep on a bed but would roll themselves in their blanket before the fireplace. In return for such hospitality they would often leave a saddle of venison or other game. If a half a dozen or more Indians were met with, only one would speak English.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Thoughts on an Epic Flight

Fifty years ago December 17, two self-denying, determined young men with the fortitude to cling to an idea and battle until they won against every adversity, got an airplane off the ground for 120 feet at Kitty Hawk, and brought aviation to the planet. In this age when self-denial, back-breaking effort, heartbreaking discouragement and long hours of tough labor without a good financial return have done a fadeout in American life, the story of the Wright Brothers seems fictional.

Choosing one of the dreariest sites in the country, living in a shack, going for long stretches with little food, meeting with failure after failure, doing their own repairs and digging into their own pockets to do the job, this pair of bicycle-shop proprietors asked no help, sought no prizes, knew no jackpots and never dreamed of yelling for the government to make it easy.

There were no cheers, no applause and few photos. They were scorned as cranks and made the butt of vaudeville jokes.

Were two young men today to get the idea of a flying machine the following course probably would mark their performance:

1. Draw rough print of plane and get legal advice.
2. Form a corporation.
3. Contact the right people politically, with special attention to government officials.
4. Obtain a list of all federal agencies that might extend aid.
5. Secure federal loan.
6. Give out interviews and appear on TV panels.
7. Sell Stock.
8. Kitty Hawk my eye! (Looks lousy in literature. Choose colorful locale extra accessible to all the comforts of life.)
9. Issue prospectus and sell stock.
10. If first flight of plane is a booboo, charge sabotage.
11. Repair plane personally? Don't be a goof! (What agency has replaced the RFC? Contact it for more dough.)
12. Quarters occupied during experiments not de luxe and slow room service? Move to a de luxe hotel with good floor show.
13. Second attempt to get plane off ground fails. Blame it on lack of cooperation, government indifference, lack of larger loans, loss of weight, lack of relaxation, need of shorter hours and more time for good clean fun.
14. Third and fourth attempt flights a bust. Machine again badly damaged. (Change lawyers. Hire new publicity staff. Issue more colorful advertising pamphlets. Get photographed in nightclub with glamorous society debutante. Make note to see about subsidies.)
15. Long stretch of bad weather. Hangar and plane badly damaged by gales. Complain to City Hall, State Legislature, White House, Etc. Get new lobbyist. Demand more government aid. Discover nervous strain is giving you ulcers. Abandon experiments because you can't sleep more than 15 hours at a stretch. See psychiatrist. To hell with air flight. Take a job offering 40-hour week, fatter pensions and Florida vacations with pay.

We wish Jackie Gleason would bump off some of his solo sketches on TV, which feature some extra repulsive characters for living-room acceptance, and stick to such really hilarious routines as the one about the bus driver, hired to play Santa and collect bets for bookies. Congressman Scores Rhee

Criticizes Luxury Amid Korea Suffering

CINCINNATI (AP)—Rep. Brownson (R-Ind) says a personal whim of President Syngman Rhee of Korea forces United ations personnel to spend their time on plans for luxurious hotel rather than on housing for the homeless.

Brownson said yesterday a U.N. planning staff spends all its time working on the rebuilding of the Banto building in Seoul while 25,000 persons are without homes in Pusan as a result of a fire.

The Indianapolis congressman made his charges in a radio interview. He has recently returned from Korea.

The chairman of the House subcommittee on international operations said:

"While our taxpayers pour in money for drugs, food and essentials, two million dollars of Korea's lean foreign exchange is being spent for imported materials to create a luxury hotel complete with bars, cocktail lounges, garden rooms, a star-light room and a Western steak restaurant—all this at the insistence of President Rhee."

He said Rhee aspired to be Korea's George Washington and suggested he might name one of the cocktail lounges "The Valley Forge Room."

Divinity Student's Skid Row Studies Lead to Wedding

CHICAGO (AP) — A divinity student's term project led him to his bride on skid row.

Last March, George E. Weber, 25, grew a beard and became a bum as a part of his sociology studies at Garrett Biblical Institute. Later he abandoned this role to work in human rehabilitation with the Rev. William Seath, superintendent of the Chicago Christian Industrial League.

Weber and Mr. Seath's 18-year-old daughter Wilma were married yesterday in the league's chapel. Mr. Seath both gave away the bride and performed the ceremony

Guests included about 50 former skid row bums who sipped non-alcoholic punch.

Death Claims Noted Detective

Cincinnati's Famed Cal Crim Legendary

CINCINNATI (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Cal Crim, who grew into an almost legendary detective character by the time he died Saturday at the age of 89.

He drew national attention in 1896 when he solved the murder of Pearl Bryan. He traced the identity of the headless body through a pair of shoes.

Crim also played a role in the investigation of the baseball scandals of 1919.

He was born in Oakland, Md., coming to Cincinnati as a youngster. His first job was as bellhop at a salary of $8 a month, plus "keep."

He joined the police force in 1886. He retired as chief of detectives to set up a private detective agency.

When he was shot in 1901 by a notorious pickpocket, John Foley (Foley the Goat), citizens here raised money to pay for his home.

Withrow Will Head Green Camp K of P

Norman D. Withrow was elected chancellor commander of Scioto Lodge, 772, Knights of Pythias, of Green Camp at a recent election.

Others elected were: W. Long, vice chancellor; Grover Bosart, master of works; G. W. Sorreles, secretary; Vernon E. Davis, financial secretary; A. E. Haberman, treasurer; John Haberman, master at arms; Eugene Lyons, inner guard; Carl Zimmerman, outer guard; Rollie Chard, trustee three years. Other trustees are H. D. Kempton, chairman, and W. D. Carr.

Lodge Deputy Beaver M. Bricker announced that the installation would be Jan. 7. The lodge at that time will hold their annual oyster supper. Harold Rice, Edward Flach and George W. Reynolds were named on a social committee.

The group voted to inaugurate a membership and attendance campaign beginning Jan. 7. The new chancellor commander will name two captains of teams. A donation was made to the Marion County Tuberculosis Association. The lodge will sponsor an independent basketball team.

No meetings will be held Dec. 24 or 31 due to Christmas and New Year's Eve.

Reminder to Adults:

Christmas Still Belongs to the Children

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is Christmas?

It began with the worship of an Infant, and even today you miss the sparkle of Christmas unless you see it by the candles of joy in a child's eyes.

Christmas is the one holiday of the year that adults can never take away from the kids—so they might as well quit trying. From the dawn's early light until the twilight lowers to the music of a tired, sleepy hand beating on an already broken drum, Christmas properly is the property of childhood.

We grownups try to get into the act, but our real role is that of appreciative audience. There is no fun on Christmas greater than watching a kid have fun. And how could there be? For only in such a manner can we ever truly bathe in the fountain of youth, and know again the morning delights we somehow lose along the way.

Some adults feel hurt if they don't get more Christmas cards than they send out—as if Christmas were a popularity contest, and they had lost it. Others worry if they do get back more cards—as if Christmas were a matching contest that the rules of a courteous jungle require to come out even. Still other adults get secretly or audibly miffed if they get a wrong present—as if Christmas were a competition between pocketbooks.

It is these so-called grownups who most often complain that Christmas has become a racket, and as far as they are concerned they are quite right. To them it is a racket because they have approached it in that spirit. Childbirth would be a racket, too, if a mother had a baby only to sell it to the highest bidder.

All such spiritually barren folk should have their hearts, if not their heads, examined and be given a massive dose of the world's oldest wonder drug—the elixir of loving-kindness.

What makes a child love Christmas? Wonder and surprise. The immortal ecstasy of opening a package and finding something new inside. The value of a gift means nothing to him. And what difference does it make if the child breaks his gift five minutes after he opens the package? He has given you a reward that will last as long as memory—the wonderful look of happiness when he first saw his gift, his face sweet as the spring sun and his voice like a glad bird's cry.

If someone deeded you the earth and threw in the moon for a souvenir, could you summon up such utter appreciation?

There are some who say that there is too much emphasis on giving presents to children at Christmas and too little emphasis on religion—too much of Santa Claus, too little of Christ. But I recall reading that the three wise men brought gifts to the infant Jesus in the manger, and I don't recall reading that he grew up a spoiled child.

Someone told me a story the other day of a little boy who surprised his mother with a present for her birthday. It was a big, awkwardly tied package. As the mother pulled more and more wrapping out of the box without finding anything, she began to suspect a trick.

"Why, I don't believe there's any present inside at all," she exclaimed, pretending disappointment.

"Yes, there is, too!"

"What is it?" asked the mother.

"It's me!" said her little son, jumping up and down with glee.

There is a French maxim that says, "Zest is the last gift of the gods."

What is Christmas but zest—the zest of seeing a happy child, and kindling through remembrance the zest you knew yourself as a child on Christmas morning?

None of us know what the infant Jesus really looked like, but don't we all feel He smiled on His birthday?

Borrow $86 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers and stockmen, most of them in drought areas, have borrowed more than 86 million dollars from the Farmers Home Administration since July 1, Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today.

Parents Planning Family Christmas For Siamese Twin

CHICAGO (AP)—This will be the first Christmas at home for 27-month-old Rodney Brodie, the survivor of Brodie Siamese twins.

Doctors at the University of Illinois Research Hospital gave their approval yesterday to the request of Rodney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, to take him home for the holidays.

The jubilant parents immediately set out by car with him for their farm home near Ferris, Ill., where the little boy can become better acquainted with his four brothers and sisters.

"We have no special plans," Mrs. Brodie said before leaving. "Our Christmas will be similar to that in most homes.

"We have looked forward to this for a long time," said the father. "The entire family will be present for the first time."

The Peabody Museum at Yale University maintains a museum in a small sandstone quarry at Middlefield, Conn., where dinosaur tracks show in the stone.

Three University of New Mexico Students Put Out Coed Calendar

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Thousands of men each year take a look at artistic girls on spicy calendars and sigh:

"Now, what could be prettier!"

"A college coed," scream three 20-year-old University of New Mexico juniors in answer. "And we're quitting school to prove it."

The three, Wally Deckert of Springfield, S. D., Larry Ross of Albuquerque, and Hank Edwards of Chapel Hill, N. C., are in dead earnest. They've put out their first calendar with photos of scantily clad coeds in place of the painted long-legged beauties.

"This isn't just a crazy Joe College stunt," said Deckert, a mechanical engineering student. "We've already got our first calendar on the market here. They're going like hot cakes."

The trio had to convince the university, the parents of 11 of the 12 coeds who were under 21, and a censorship board.

"The university was tough," Deckert said. "The coeds were a cinch. The parents took some talking, but the censorship board—oh, brother!"

Ross, a biology student, dropped by to see Deckert last month.

"One thing led to another," said Deckert. "The next thing we knew we decided to make a calendar using college coeds as the come on."

The calendars—financed by advertising—feature a coed above each month and a cartoon alongside the dates. Not all the girls show their legs—a concession to the censorship board—but most do.

"But none are suggestive," Deckert said. "The censorship board took care of that. A board made up of two deans and only one student can be pretty tough. They junked four pictures. I still can't see why, but I guess they had their reasons."

"We copyrighted our calendar and we're going to put one out next year. Then, in 1955, we'll go into the national field. I've quit school already and Hank and Larry are going to quit. Another buddy is going in with us."

Her first husband was killed in a tractor accident, her three children by that marriage are being cared for by her father.

Professional Gate Crasher Dies at 84

ZION, Ill. (AP)—James Leo (One-eyed) Connelly, who until 19 years ago made a career out of crashing gates of major sports events and political conventions, died last night in a rest home. He was 84.

Until he was 65, he never worked, his best friends, Nick Keller and James H. McQueeny said. He lived by his wits, and he made it a point of honor to be present at all big sporting events and political conventions—without a ticket.

When he did go to work, it was as greeter and chef in a restaurant near Zion operated by Keller.

Poll Findings Announced

Hepburn, Ferrer Choice Of Film Critics as '53 Best

NEW YORK (AP)—Audrey Hepburn and Jose Ferrer have been named top movie stars of the year in an annual poll of critics by Film Daily, a trade publication.

Results of the poll were announced last night.

The European-born Miss Hepburn also was named top "find" of the year because of her first big U.S. screen role in "Roman Holiday."

Ferrer was cited for his acting in "Moulin Rouge."

Crooner Frank Sinatra's straight dramatic role in "From Here to Eternity" and Gloria Grahame's part in "The Bad and The Beautiful" won them citations for best supporting performances.

The nod for the ablest directing went to Fred Zinnemann, and for the best screen writing to Daniel Taradash, both for "From Here to Eternity."

Another annual screen citation, the "best picutre" selection of the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures went to the film "Julius Caesar." The picture starred James Mason, Deborah Kerr, Marlon Brando, Louis Calhern and Greer Garson.

Henry Hart, chairman of the board's Committee on Exceptional Films, said the picture was chosen because "it was not merely an able transfer of a state play to the screen, but an unusually skillful portrayal of an historic event."

The board's other nine selections, in the order chosen, were "Shane," "From Here to Eternity," 'Martin Luther," "Lili," "Roman Holiday," "Stalag 17," "Little Fugitive," "Mogambo" and "The Robe."

The board selected Jean Simmons as the years best movie actress for her work in "Young Bess," "The Robe" and "The Actress."

James Mason was voted the years best actor for his work in "Face to Face," "The Desert Rats," "The Man Between" and "Julius Caesar" George Stevens, director of the Western picture "Shane," was voted the year's best director.

Pressure on Postmasters To Quit Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today some Democrats in Congress have served notice they will demand a close check of all postmaster nominations next year to see if vacancies resulted from "undue pressure" on Democratic incumbents.

The Oklahoman is a member of the Senate Post Office Committee, which passes on all postmaster nominations before they go to the Senate floor for confirmation.

Sen Carlson (R-Kan), chairman of the committee, said he did not understand any formal notice had been served on his group by it's Democratic members although they had mentioned the matter.

Carlson added that he would be glad to make any investigation desired by Democrats of the way in which vacancies occurred in postmasterships for which Republican nominees will be sent to the Senate by President Eisenhower.

Several Democratic senators have reported receiving complaints that the new administration has tried to harass and scare Democrats into quitting as postmasters.

Attempted Theft of Car Reported to City Police

An attempted car theft was reported to police last night.

Don Pearson, of 443 N. State St., reported that an attempt had been made to steal his car between 7:30 and 10 last night when it was parked in the rear of the Cussins and Fearn Store at 179 E. Center St.

Pearson said that he had left his car a 1951 model, there while he had gone to a movie. When he returned, the car would not start.

Investigation revealed that several wires under the dashboard had been cut and pulled loose, and two of them had been wired together in an attempt to start the car.

Galion Police, Firemen Called as Dog Drowns

GALION — A German boxer dog drowned Sunday afternoon in the Big Four railroad reservoir when he broke through the ice. Frightened neighbors hearing his howls thought it was a person and summoned aid. Both city patrolmen and firemen responded to the call at 1:10 p.m.

The dog belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams of Galion.

a "snow job" on the public.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa) and Rep. Hope (R-Kan) on the same program praised the Republican proposals as "liberal and constructive."

In a final announcement on the legislative discussions Saturday, Eisenhower said the program will be based on the 1952 Republican platform.

He said the test of foreign policy would be: "Does it advance the interests of America?"

The domestic program, he continued, would assure the people "that they can depend on this administration to protect the security, the welfare and the economic stability of each individual citizen."

Monroney commented, 'We'd like to be in on the takeoff as well as the crash. The advice is all coming from one party."

Military Budget Revised

Informed sources reported during the weekend that Eisenhower has tentatively approved military budget revisions that would mean reducing the strength of the Army to about 1,165,000 men by July 1, 1955, compared with present strength of a little under 1½ million.

The recommendations were said to envisage reductions in manpower for all the armed services except the Air Force, which would be allowed to expand during the next two years from the present strength of a little over 930,000 to about 970,000.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, said last night he thought Congress would relax the secrecy on atomic matters now required by law enough to help U. S. allies and further the President's plan for an international information and materials pool to develop peacetime applications of nuclear energy.

Arter Trial Opens In Municipal Court

Trial of J.C.A. Arter, 54, of 264 Bellefontaine Ave. on a charge of resisting arrest opened in Municipal Court today and was continued until this afternoon after Arter asked dismissal of the charge

Only witness called to testify this morning was Homer Watson, city policeman who filed the charge.

During his testimony for the city, Watson said that he filed the charge as a result of his attempt to place a ticket for double parking on Arter's car. He said Arter drove off before he could place the ticket on his car.

In asking for dismissal of the the charge Arter said city law permits double parking to load and unload and also claimed the city had not proved he resisted arrest.

Judge Eugene McNeill of Van Wert, assigned to the case, called for a recess to study city ordinances and determine whether or not there was a case of resisting arrest.

Man Pleads Not Guilty To Using Knife in Fight

Richard Radcliff, 57, no address listed, pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court this morning to a charge of wielding a deadly weapon. The charge was filed against him by Cecil Frazer of Marion.

Bond of $100 was set for Radcliff's appearance at a hearing on Dec. 28.

Police arrested Radcliff at 6:30 p.m. at 781 W. Center St. Frazer told police that Radcliff pulled a knife on him in a fight a short time before.

MAN ORDERED TO LEAVE

Frank Edward Russell, 55, of Lima was fined $25 and costs in Municipal Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being a suspicious person. The fine was suspended when he agreed to leave town. Police arrested Russell on N. Main St. at 7:42 p.m. Friday.

Wreckage of Plane Believed Reached By Rescue Teams

LONDON (AP)—A ground rescue team was believed today to have reached the wreckage of a U. S. Navy Neptune bomber which crashed Thursday on a southern Iceland glacier but no word was heard here whether any of the nine men aboard were still alive.

The rescuers, fighting their way through the worst Iceland blizzard this winter, last reported by radio yesterday that they were 1½ miles from the crash, 110 miles southeast of Reykjavik. They had been expected to reach the plane yesterday afternoon.

American authorities in Reykjavik said last night there was little hope that any of the nine fliers had survived the crash or the fierce storms.

Prison

ing northwest section convinced police that the five were lying low.

Police tracked down numerous anonymous tips without success.

The manhunt concentrated in the northwest area where the fugitives abandoned a stolen Cadillac car and released their two women hostages seized shortly after the break.

One lead sent police racing to a home where Emerick, one of the convicts, formerly lived.

Two men had been reported entering the house. Officers surrounded the place, ready with machine guns. The lead proved false, however.

The 13 escaped by cutting through three steel grates of an underground sewer with an acetylene torch. Where they got the torch and the oxygen to operate it was the subject of an immediate investigation by Warden William H. Bannan.

Deputy Warden Charles Cahill said he believed the torch was obtained from one of the prison industries. The oxygen, he said, could have come from a construction company's supply stored inside the prison walls.

Emerging from the filthy drain tunnel, the 13 were 250 feet outside the prison walls.

Wield Clubs and Knives

Their first move was to converge on the home of Glenn Milliman, 28-year-old auto salesman and former prison guard. Threatening Milligan and his wife with knives and clubs, they ransacked the house, stole clothing, money and a gun and fled in Milliman's car.

A short time later they split up. Six stayed in the Milliman car, only to crash in it while attempting to run a state police blockade near Napoleon, 12 miles southeast of the prison.

Five were captured immediately. Dan Beardsley, 37, murder-lifer from Detroit, also was in the car but eluded police for a short time before he was captured. He told prison officials he planned the getaway but almost backed out when he saw 12 others wanted to get into the act.

Herbert Gulembo, 29, doing 20 to 30 years for armed robbery in Detroit, parted company from the others when they split into two main groups and was picked up Saturday night in a Jackson hotel. Rosa also stayed in Jackson at that time.

Steal Clothes

The other five burst into the home of Joseph Watts in Jackson. Holding him at gunpoint, they stole most of his clothes. Then they drove off in a Cadillac owned by a visitor at the home, taking Mrs. Watts and Miss Helen Gilbert, a nurse also visiting at the home, as hostages.

In northwest Detroit, the convicts got out of the car. Three reportedly went one way and two another. The women ran out of gasoline a short time later, then walked to a filling station and called police.

Mrs. Watts and Miss Gilbert said the fugitives were gentlemanly throughout, and kept assuring them they would not be harmed if they followed instructions.

"It was funny," said Mrs. Watts. 'All of them except the one called Usiondek were almost kind. One time I sort of bowed my head trying to stay awake and one of the convicts asked if I was sick."

At one point, she said, Usiondek "went wild, screaming about Dowling's driving and waving a gun. It seemed as if they all were afraid of him."

The five left Watts a dollar after taking about $40 and gave the women $2 for gasoline and food when they bid them goodby.

Man Given Suspended Fine on Larceny Charge

Lewis C. Palmer, 27, of 698 Hocking St. was fined $25 and costs in Municipal Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny.

The fine was suspended when Palmer agreed to pay for goods stolen from the Mohawk Market at 677 W. Center St. Saturday afternoon.

Palmer was picked up on Hocking St. by police at 6:19 p.m. Saturday from the description given them by Edward Solomon, proprietor of the market, when he reported the theft at 5:53 p.m.

Solomon identified Palmer as the man who stole a fruit cake, a banana and a bottle of steak sauce from the store.

of Upper Sandusky.

She was taken to Marion City Hospital where her condition was reported as "good" this morning.

Two Hurt in Collision

Two persons were injured in an accident Sunday at 6:50 p.m. on State Route 4, about five miles north of the intersection with Route 203. Three cars were involved.

Driver of the first car was Vernon Bristley, 43, of 942 Westwood Ave., who had slowed down on the highway to make a turn, according to patrolmen. Driving the second car was Walter Moyer, 69, of near Prospect, and the driver of the third car was George Dever, 55, of Attica.

Patrolmen investigating the accident say Dever's car struck the rear of Moyer's vehicle, forcing Moyer's car into the rear of Bristley's car.

Moyer suffered lacerations of the face and neck and severe shock. Mrs. Mae Dever, a passenger in the third car, suffered a bruised left leg. They were taken to City Hospital by a passing motorist, treated and released.

Dever was cited to appear in Municipal Court Tuesday on a charge of following too closely. Moyer was also cited to appear Dec. 30 to answer a charge of unsafe operation.

Minor damage was reported to Bristley's car, and extensive damage was done to the other two vehicles.

Three Persons Injured

Three persons were injured in a one - car accident Saturday night at 9:15 on U. S. Route 23, six-tenths of a mile north of the intersection with State Route 4. All three were taken to City Hospital, treated, and released.

The car was driven by Raymond A. Rudolph, 22, of Grand Rapids, O. He was headed north and struck a slippery spot on the highway, went off the road, and hit a tree.

Rudolph received a bruise on the head and lacerations of the left hand. His wife, Coral, also was bruised on the head, and their nine-month-old son, Lawrence, was treated for abrasions and bruises. The car was extensively damaged.

Automobile Overturns

Mrs. Sarah Huff of 383 Michigan Ave. received lacerations of the left knee and bruises of the left leg in an accident Sunday at 9:45 a.m. on County Road 167, less than one-half mile west of State Route 98.

She was injured when the car which she was driving skidded on a slippery spot on the road and turned over. She did not require treatment. The car was extensively damaged on the top, both fenders, and hood.

Three Cut in Accident

Three persons were injured in an accident on U. S. Route 30-S, Sunday at 2 a.m., one and one-half miles east of Marion. Driver of the car was Mrs. Opal Fogle of 219 E. She, Everett Fogle, 41, of the same address, and Kenneth McKinniss, 32, of 741 N. Main St. were treated and released at City Hospital. They all suffered lacerations of the face.

The car was extensively damaged in the front end and right side.

Mrs. Boyd suffered injuries to the abdomen, and bruises below the right shoulder. She was taken to the hospital in a Schaffner-Denzer ambulance.

Patrolmen say the cars, which were headed in opposite directions on the road, apparently sideswiped, then went off the road.

A driver was cited to appear in court to answer a hit-skip charge after an accident Sunday at 7 p.m. on State Route 95, about one and one-half miles east of LaRue. Cars driven by James Pembleton, 17, of near LaRue and John Ervin, 44, of LaRue collided on the highway. Ervin was charged with driving into the path of the Pembleton car, causing the collision, and then continuing on after the accident. Minor damage was done to both cars. Ervin was cited to appear in court Tuesday.

Ella Dawsett of near Cardington escaped injury Saturday afternoon at 4:30 when her car skidded and struck a tree off County Road 136. The car was not badly damaged.

Another motorist was issued a citation following investigation of an accident Saturday morning at 10:10 on State Route 95, about three and one-half miles west of Marion.

Patrolmen say the car driven by Floyd Hyatt, 70, of near New Bloomington made a left turn into the pat. of the westbound car driven by Don Hughes, 21, of near LaRue. Extensive damage to the right front side of the Hughes car was reported, while the Hyatt car received minor damage to the front end.

Brown was going north and Bibler was driving west across N. Main St. after leaving the alley next to Drake's Tavern. Bibler's car received minor damage on the left front end.

A car driven by Wanda J. Hastings, 37, of 484 Davids St., received minor damage on the front end when it struck a car parked at 506 N. Prospect St. at 7:21 p.m. Saturday. The parked car, damaged slightly in the rear end, was owned by Robert Caldwell, of 790 Congress St.

POWs

The broadcast and the letter appeared to be the Allies' only chance of contacting the prisoners before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

Must Agree To Accept

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission ruled that the POWs must agree to accept the letter from an Allied explanation team. Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission, said he would get the Americans' answer tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the Reds won back 33 of 250 Chinese captives as interviews were resumed after a 34-day stalemate.

This not only was the greatest number of prisoners the Communists have won back in a single day but was almost triple their best previous record percentagewise.

The previous records were set Oct. 31 when 21 of 459 North Koreans—4.6 per cent—elected to return to Communist rule. The best previous record with Chinese prisoners was far below this—10 won back out of 430 interviewed Oct. 17, a percentage of only 2.4.

In eight days of interviews the Communists have talked to 2,681 prisoners and have won back 104 or 3.9 per cent.

Agree Readily

Compound B3, from which the prisoners were drawn Monday, appeared unusually docile. The prisoners agreed readily to permit interviews with just half each day —something no other compound has done. The second 250 prisoners will go before Red explainers tomorrow.

Communist refusal to interview entire 500-man compounds in a single day precipitated the long suspension of explanations.

A few prisoners cursed and spat at the persuaders today, but there was none of the violence which marked earlier explanation sessions.

Some of the prisoners walked into the tents with the mind obviously made up, but others appeared to be convinced during long and quiet interviews.

Gen. Hull told newsmen in Seoul he is interested only in being certain that the American prisoners have freedom to choose their future.

"The thing that we have stood for always has been freedom of choice," he said.

He added that he flew to Korea from his Tokyo headquarters primarily to discuss plans for handling about 2,500 anti-Communist Chinese and Koreans scheduled for release from Indian custody Jan. 22 under terms of the armistice.

The Soviet government said the whole doctors' "plot" was a frame-up, and that their "confessions" were obtained by "illegal and impermissible" methods.

Campaigns of denunciation in Russia take place only when ordered. They are the ultimate device in the Soviet propaganda arsenal for getting public sentiment behind the government, crushing opposition to government policies, and arousing Russian emotions.

The mass meetings organized during such drives take place at places of work, and attendance at them is mandatory. Audiences present listen to a succession of speakers who use extreme terms of denunciation and condemnation and re-echo the government and party line.

Escape Hatch

By George Sokolsky

Few articles in our Constitution have been as unfittingly used by witnesses before Congressional committees as the Fifth Amendment. Action, under it, has become so vulgar that one witness did not even trouble to plead. He shouted, "Fifth!" "Fifth!" "Fifth!"

SOKOLSKY

The Fifth Amendment reads:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

-:-

OBVIOUSLY this amendment involves a number of rights. In the instances before current congressional committees, only one clause is made to apply, namely:

"Nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself.'

This clause can only be applied in a matter involving a criminal case. If the statute of limitations has run, there is no criminal case and therefore the amendment does not apply.

It is to be presumed therefore that whenever a witness pleads under the Fifth Amendment, he knows that his conduct has been such that, if discovered, he could be prosecuted for a crime. In many instances, this crime could be perjury.

In Robertson V. Baldwin it was held that if the witness benefited by the statute of limitations (lapse of time), a pardon, or a statutory enactment, he could not also benefit by the Fifth Amendment.

IN A WORD, this right can only be used when it is clear that a person may actually incriminate himself in a punishable crime. Many witnesses before congressional committees are therefore using this plea incorrectly and could be held in contempt, because they are withholding information for which they cannot be punished, unless it is perjury.

It has been claimed that the Fifth Amendment protects the innocent as well as the guilty. This is nonsense. The entire amendment deals only with infamous crimes.

In Ex parte Wilson (144 U.S. 417, 426 (1885), it is made clear that the purpose of the amendment was to limit the powers of the legislature as well as the prosecuting oficers of the United States in criminal matters.

NO DECLARATION of Congress that a crime is infamous is needed to secure or competent to defeat the Constitutional safeguard.

In a word, the amendment sets out to safeguard a person from testifying against himself in a criminal matter for which he can be punished. Therefore, if no crime has been committed, the amendment does not apply.

The innocent are never involved in its safeguards, because the innocent cannot be punished for a crime which they have not committed. If falsely accused, the innocent can testify in their own defense.

This privilege may be waived at discretion, but once it has been waived, the witness must make full disclosure.

The question then arises whether an employee of the government of the United States may not waive the privilege of self-incrimination in advance of obtaining employment by the government in sensitive work.

HE COULD not be deprived of this constitutional right by an act of Congress, but employment by the United States is a privilege and not a right and the government can withhold employment without explanation.

It is under no compulsion to employ anyone, although the Civil Service and the Veterans Preference Acts do provide safeguards for those already employed.

No witness before a congressional committee is being accused of a crime. Only a grand jury can do that.

The witness is interrogated for information about conditions in the country, of which it is believed that he possesses knowledge. He may or may not be involved personally in these matters.

If he pleads the Fifth Amendment, in advance of a grand jury proceedings, it must be assumed that he has knowledge that he has been involved in a crime for which a grand jury could indict him.

No act of Congress is necessary to make such a person unemployable by the government. It could be done by executive fiat.

Chorus Line

By Victor Riesel

Some unions maintained hotels, skyscrapers, summer camps, small navies and airfleets, banks and even Wall Street portfolios.

RIESEL

Now here's one with its own chorus line of eight—count 'em—eight girls. And for good reason.

This union's chief is determined that his followers, who make up the largest AFL local in the land, will enjoy democracy even if it takes glamor to interest them in it.

That's how it began. Only a few members were coming out to meetings of Chicago's Electrical Workers Union, which now covers 104 factories producing some 60 per cent of all the radio and TV sets and parts in the U.S.

THIS HANDFUL of faithful members were bored by disrupters and propagandists a decade ago. The loudmouths harangued them until the members stopped coming and the organized few threatened to take over this union. Local 1031, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

So its chief, Frank Darling hired a $20 vaudeville act and a four-piece band and told his members to come back to meetings to enjoy themselves.

Today, 10 years later, Frank Darling tells me his union meetings are the world's largest. Because his union hall seats only 3,600 members and takes 800 standees, he must run the union session (to decide policy and tactics) in four nightly installments.

Once every two months he puts together a regular big time revue, which in the past has starred Jimmy Durante, Eddie Cantor, Sophie Tucker, Danny Thomas and others in the $5,000 a night firmament.

THE SHOW is built around the stars and the union's own eight-gal chorus line — and all the girls are union members right off the assembly line of some radio or TV plant.

Darling negotiates with the theatrical unions and pays the girls for each show — slightly above scale, he tells me.

Just about this time of the year, he hammers together a show which could keep them lined up right through New York's Shubert Alley. The show this year, for which the union is paying $75,000, ran from Dec. 7 through Dec. 19—and you got in by invitation or union book only.

The union asked the employers and their supervisory help to come down for Bert Lahr and a company of 48. Everybody had a good time for two weeks and they didn't growl at each other back in the plants the morning after.

DURING the in-between months, when Darling isn't producing musicals for the membership meetings, he runs a full-length movie, three bingo games and free dancing.

However, this isn't just to report to you that Darling is Chicago's biggest buyer of talent in this day of vaudevillians who mourn the passing of their great profession.

This is to report that you can get 15,000 members to attend to union business. Darling gives them union business first, then the show or movie and the dancing.

This makes it tought for any kind of politico with a pitch to get up and make some wild plea or filibuster the sessions to keep them from constructive business, when a Durante or a Martha Raye is in the wings waiting to go on and "send" them.

A DEMOCRATIC union means a clean union. This outfit has never charged any member any initiation fee or special assessment. (All its musical shows are free.) There have been only six strikes in the past 10 years — and none during normal negotiations. The walkouts came in the course of original organizing campaigns.

As for the union welfare abuse, now under investigation in at least six states, it doesn't exist here because Darling tells the employers to insure their union workers anywhere they want.

FURTHERMORE, Darling has convinced some employers that they ought to break all tradition by giving those of their workers who've been with them at least 10 years a 12-month vacation WITH FULL PAY. This could stabilize the industry, insure discipline and promote skilled production by ending the dreaded turnover in all businesses.

When the first firm to sign such a contract announced the pact, it was flooded with calls from job-seekers. Now a Treasury Department ruling against allowing funds for these vacations to be deducted from taxes temporarily has halted the arrangement.

All this the members get for 62 cents a week dues. All this and a chorus line, too.

Poor Feuoco

By Laura Hobson

How would you like to be in the terrible fix of having three separate companies sue you to accept $150,000 from one of them?

HOBSON

That's the awful fix author James A. Michener is in—and thereby hangs a tale that is distinctly not one of the "Tales of the South Pacific,' which won him the Pulitzer Prize in 1948 and which became the Broadway and London hit, "South Pacific."

This new tale concerns Mr. Michener's yet unpublished novel, "Sayonara," which ran as a serial in McCalls, and which Random House will publish as a book Jan. 25.

IT'S A MODERN love story of an American airman, a Korean ace, who falls in love with a Japanese dancer in Kobe, Japan. "Sayonara" means farewell and this emotional, dramatic story has aroused high-voltate praise from anybody who's read it.

High voltage, too, was the business interest promptly generated among the technicolor tycoons of Hollywood, and the author and his agents, William Morris & Co., set forth terms and price at which "Variety," that renowned gazeteer of show biz, reported in full detail:

A flat $150,000 was to be the first payment—not necessarily the last. If the film took in $4,000,000 at the box office, another $50,000 was to be paid the author: if the gross went half a million beyond that, an extra little $25,000 would be his, and if it hit $5,000,000, he'd be handed a final check for $25,000.

IN HOLLYWOOD lingo, this was an escalator deal, which could get that initial $150,000 upstairs to a ceiling of a quarter-million dollars.

The idea of this little batch of coin did not stagger either Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor, 20th Century-Fox, or a bigtime independent producer named William Goetz. All three agreed to all the terms and the asking price. Or prices.

Enter Josh Logan of Broadway. It was Joshua Logan who had produced the Rodgers and Hammerstein show, "South Pacific," and as he read "Sayonara," he had visions of it not as a movie, but as another musical for Broadway, with songs by none other than Irving Berlin and with the lavish Logan treatment all through.

THIS VERSION appealed equally to the author. He changed his mind about a movie, sold his rights to Josh Logan instead, and Metro, 20th, and Mr. Goetz found themselves jilted at the church.

Early in October, they announced they were going to sue the author, to make him choose one of the three—any one of the three.

Mr. Michener and his agents announced they'd start a countermotion to dismiss such a suit. But last week Judge Denis O'Leary Cohalan of New York supreme court, denied their motion and ordered the case to a jury trial.

So now the plot moves forward to another exciting installment, and when the trial's over James Michener will be left either with the prospect of another Broadway bonanza or with a ride on that $150,000 escalator up to a possible quarter of a million.

Poor fellow.

Crawford County Food Inspection Being Transferred

Special to the Star

BUCYRUS — C. C. Richard, Crawford County sanitarian, announced here today that operators of restaurants and other food service establishments in the county are being notified officially that the licensing and inspection of their premises has been transferred from the state fire marshall's office to the local health department in which the business is located.

Sanitary regulations have been adopted and license fees established by the state public health council as required by the state legislature.

Fees established for the county health district, which exludes Bucyrus and Galion, is $25 a year. However, schools, churches, hospitals and governmental institutions must pay only $1 annual fee.

Richard, who also serves as sanitarian in adjoining Wyandot County, explained that all food service operations except those serving simple confections are required to obtain licenses and be subject to inspection. Local health boards are required to collect fees, issue licenses and conduct inspections for compliance with regulations.

Licenses may be suspended or revoked after sufficient notice to the operator for failure to comply with santitary requirements or other provisions of the law, Richard said.

Of the earth's total of 36,480 million land acres, about 6,400 million acres might be arable says a Twentieth Century Fund estimate.

SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

AP Newsfeature

The Gremlins capture Willie and the two Dreamlins. Willie accidentally swallows the magic pill Santa made for the Dreamlin queen and turns into a puff of smoke. He escapes and hides in a coffee pot and there he finds the Dreamlin queen.

CHAPTER 16

"Why—you must be the Dreamlin queen!" whispered Willie when he found the lovely creature with a crown on her head imprisoned in the coffee pot.

"Indeed I am," replied the queen. 'And I do wish you would go somewhere else."

"But I have come to save you!" protested Willie.

"You are choking me and causing my eyes to sting quite badly," complained the queen.

"That's because I ate a pill sent for you," explained Willie. The pill turned we into smoke and that is how—"

But before Willie could finish a terrible thing hapened. The magic of the pill wore off and he turned back into his old self.

Instantly the pot was stuffed with puppy dog.

The poor queen was crushed against the sides. Willie's ears popped off the lid and his tail went up the spout.

"There he is!" cried the Gremlins. "He is in the prison with the queen!"

THEY GATHERED under the shelf and shook their fists with excitement.

"Careful!" warned the leader. "Watch out for more magic he may try on us"

But even if Willie had had more magic he could not have used it. He could not even draw a breath he was so crowded in the pot.

The queen could stand it no longer. "You are mashing me!" she squealed.

Willie leaped and as he leaped the coffee pot turned on its side, and crashed upon the Gremlins below scattering them over the kitchen floor.

The pot burst open and Willie sprang out, the queen clinging to his neck.

Willie fled across the kitchen.

"Wait for me!" shouted Mr. Not Much.

"And me!" echoed Mr. Very Little.

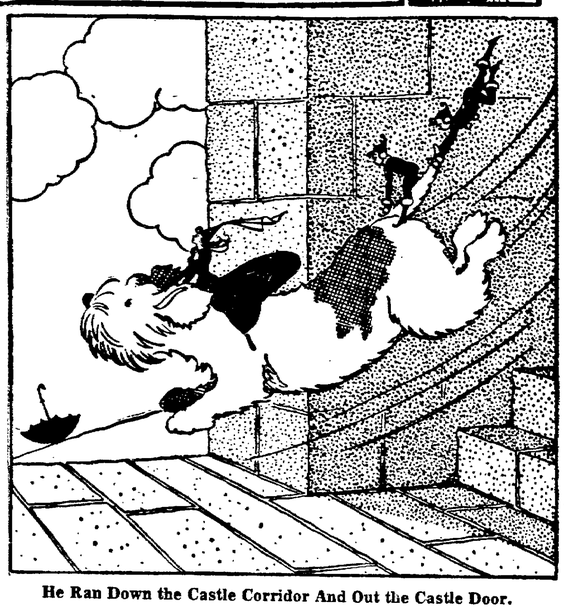
THE TWO Dreamlins snatched onto Willie's tail as the puppy passed through the door.

Willie never stopped. Carrying the three Dreamlins he ran down the castle corridor and out the castle door straight to Santa's umbrella. They didn't relax until they were all safely in the umbrella and on the way to Santa Land.



He Ran Down the Castle Corridor And Out the Castle Door.

Then Willie lay back in exhaustion while the Dreamlins told their queen of their long adventure to save her and how Willie had helped.

The queen said, "What an unselfish dog!"

Willie heard her say he was unselfish and thought. "Now I shall be able to fly!"

When they arrived in Santa Land they found Santa and all the workers waiting for them. There was Santa's big sleigh and the eight flying reindeer, too, for it was Christmas eve and soon Santa must take off with his load of toys.

WILLIE CLIMBED out of the umbrella. "Wait until those reindeer see me fly!" he thought and he leaped into the air.

But alas! Willie still could not fly.

Santa dug him out of the snow and rubbed him gently behind the ears.

"I saved the Dreamlin queen," moaned Willie. "Wasn't that a fine unselfish thing to do? Why can't I fly now?"

"Willie," said Santa, "true unselfishness is something that grows in the heart. I cannot explain it."

"I shall never fly," said Willie. He gazed longingly at the reindeer waiting patiently to fly away with Santa. "Oh, I did so want to go with you tonight!" he cried.

"You do not have to fly to go with me," said Santa. "Climb in the sleigh and we'll ride together. Hurry now for we must cover the whole world this night."

Michigan Man Saved After Plane Crash Off Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A Michigan man, rescued after clinging to the pontoons of his light plane for 36 hours in the Gulf of Mexico, was recovering here today.

Roy K. Carlson, 47, of Whitmore Lake, Mich., stayed overnight in Mound Park Hospital for treatment of exposure, cuts and bruises.

A tug picked him up 60 miles west of Tarpon Springs yesterday after his efforts to signal five airliners with his cigarette lighter failed.

A Coast Guard helicopter used a litter lift to take him from the tug and flew him here.

Carlson was flying from Livonia, Mich., to Lake Park, Fla., when his Piper Cub developed engine trouble Friday afternoon. He was forced to alight in the Gulf about a fourth of a mile off shore. The tail section was damaged when it hit the water and waves soon overturned the little craft

The waves repeatedly knocked him off the pontoons but he always regained his hold quickly.

National forests cover more than a million acres in North Carolina.

WITH MARY—And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him. And when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense and myrrh.—Matthew 2:11.

Marian Library at Dayton University Is Largest in U.S.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The University of Dayton has assembled what it believes is the world's largest library devoted to the Virgin Mary.

The university's Marian library contains some 8,500 items, including books, magazines, newspapers, pamphlets, broadsides, engravings and medals assembled by the late Leon Clugnet, librarian at the University of Paris.

According to Rev. Lawrence Monheim, S. M., director of the Dayton University library, the next largest collection would be that of the library in Bauneux, Belgium, which recently passed the 10,000 volume mark.

The Dayton University library had about 5,000 volumes before acquisition of the Clugnet collection.

Clugnet, who died in 1920, authored a bibliography of all writings referring to the Blessed Virgin.

Death Claims Noted Scientist

Dr. Robert Millikan, Cosmic Expert, Was 85

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Robert Millikan, world renowned scientist and dean of American physicists, is dead.

The 85-year-old Nobel Prize winner succumbed Saturday at a rest home. He had been bedridden with infirmities of age for several months.

His body will lie in state tomorrow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale. Private services are being planned for Wednesday.

Dr. Millikan, an authority on cosmic rays, for years was head of the California Institute of Technology here. He lived in nearby San Marino.

Winner of the Nobel Prize in physics in 1923, he held 25 honorary degrees from universities and wrote 18 books and hundreds of papers.

His son, Dr. Clark Millikan, professor of Aeronautics at Caltech, was with his father when the end came. Another son, Max F. Millikan, is professor of economics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. Millikan's wife, the former Greta Blanchard, to whom he had been married since 1902, died last Oct. 10.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edward C. Smith, 79, died yesterday in General Hospital from injuries he received earlier in the month in a fall at his home.

Nutty-Finger Pecan Filled Cookies

Your holiday entertaining problem can be solved very easily with these delicious "nutty fingers". Friends and neighbors who drop in will love them.

They are easy to keep so you can make them well before Christmas and store them in a covered container.

Here is the recipe to follow.

1 bar less 1 tablespoon (7 tablespoons(margarine
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
½ teaspoon water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2-3 cup pecan halves

Let margare soften in bowl. Add sugar, water, and vanilla and cream thoroughly. Add flour and mix well, forming a smooth dough. Place a small round of dough in palm of left hand and press out flat. Put a pecan half in center of dough. Roll dough around the nut enclosing it in a finger-shaped covering. Place on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 20 minutes, or until light brown Remove from oven, and, while cookies are hot, roll them in powdered sugar, colored granulated sugar, or decorate them according to your fancy. When cold, store in covered tin containers. Makes about 3 dozen.

Lowered Tax Rate Approved at Galion

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Auditor Albert Stetzer announced here today that the Ohio Tax Commission has approved a reduction of one mill in the tax rates for taxpayers in the city of Galion and the Galion school district.

The reduction will be effective in 1954 and will bring Galion's tax rate down from $20.90 per $1,000 valuation to $19.90 a thousand.

Total savings to Galion city and school district taxpayers will be $24,040. The reduction is being brought about by a one mill cut in the 2.2 mill school bond retirement fund. Though the new 1.2 mill rate in itself is not enough to cover bonds and interest during 1954, the school has sufficient funds on hand to cover the bond and interest demands.

Pea Soup Fog Chokes Traffic in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavy fog blanketed the coastal area last night and early today, closing airports and forcing traffic to a crawl.

Los Angeles International and Long Beach Municipal airports were closed, air traffic being diverted to Lockheed Air Terminal in Burbank, where visibility was good.

Marine trafic was virtually halted. Pilots used radar to reach anchorages. Two small boats carrying five persons were lost in the fog for several hours but finally made port safely.

Soviets Award Stalin Prize To Left-Winger

'Highest Honor,' Says Novelist Howard Fast At $25,000 Citation

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviets saluted American left wing Novelist Howard Fast today, awarding him a $25,000 Stalin Peace Prize.

Fast himself presented the same prize to another American winner. Negro Singer Paul Robeson, in ceremonies in New York's Harlem three months ago.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, announced the 1953 awards today, the 74th anniversary of Joseph Stalin's birth.

The prizes, Communist equivalent of the Nobel awards, were established in 1949 as part of the celebration for the Soviet premiers 70th anniversary. A gold medal goes with the cash award.

Pravda hailed the author as a "courageous fighter for ideals whose writings are known over the whole world, who in an atmosphere of persecution remains true to his ideals of defending the rights of man, who represents the true progressive America which has nothing in common with America of the reactionaries."

(In New York, Fast termed the prize "the highest honor that can be conferred to any person in these times." He said he hoped it would "contribute to the struggle for peace and that it may help to prove that between our country and all other countries there can be understanding, peaceful intercourse and mutual respect.)

Fast, 39, is the author of the Last Frontier, Citizen Tom Paine, Freedom Road and other bestsellers He is a native and resident of New York City.

A frequent advocate of left wing causes, the writer was convicted in 1947 of contempt of Congress along with 10 other members of the Joint Anti - Fascist Refugee Committee. The group, described by the FBI as a Communist front, refused to submit its records to the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Fast was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $300. He went to prison in June 1950.

The author has refused to answer congressional committee questions about his alleged Communist connections. Five of his books were removed from U. S. overseas libraries last year.

Firemen Answer Two Calls During Weekend

Marion firemen were called out twice over the weekend to fires in residences. Small damage resulted to one home and none to the other.

Sparks from a fireplace in a storage room at the residence of Donald Flesher at 137 N. Grand Ave. caused a fire at 10:13 p.m. Saturday. Central station firemen answered the call and estimated the loss at $15. A small part of the floor in front of the fireplace and the joists underneath were burned, firemen said.

At 6:55 p.m. last night the Marion Township fire truck was called out from the Mark St. station to a fire at the residence of Mrs. Mattie Wilson on Dexter Ave. in the Oak Knolls addition. Firemen said an item of clothing had been left atop a heating stove and caught fire. No one was home at the time and neighbors saw the smoke in the house, called the fire department, and proceeded to break in. The fire was out when firemen arrived and no loss was reported.

Most Eminent Wedding Guest Is Least Seen

NEW YORK (AP)—The aged, white-haired man strode into the fashionable Hotel Plaza last night, and headed for the elaborately decorated Terrace Room.

He handed the checkroom girl an old navy blue knitted cap similar to those sailors wear for a cold watch. Then he doffed an overcoat in which a waiter spotted a National Recovery Administration label of the early 1930's.

Then, in a well-worn dark business suit and vest and an ordinary striped tie, the whitehaired man strolled into the main room to mingle with men in white tie and tails, and women gowned in formal silk and jewels.

It was one of the season's most elegant weddings, and the aged gentleman in the dark business suit was perhaps the most eminent wedding guest.

He came late but was one of the first through the reception line after the ceremony to congratulate the bridegroom, Dr. Thomas Lee Bucky of Cornell University Medical College here, and the bride, the former Miss Margaret Neuburg, of Park avenue and Weston, Conn.

The guest, a close friend of Bucky's father, Physicist Gustav Bucky, quickly ducked around a corner from the reception line and into an elevator and out of sight.

It was the end of a rare social appearance for 74-year-old Prof. Albert Einstein.

St. Mary Falls 75-62 Before Rangy Tiffin Calvert

Visitors' Scoring Ace Leads Way, Collects 41 Markers

A rangy Tiffin Calvert crew beat off a fourth-quarter rally by St. Mary Saturday night at the Coliseum to walk off with a 75-62 win. The Irish dumped in 27 markers during the last stanza but the Calvert lead was never seriously threatened.

Big Bill Roherback was the spark for the Senecas. Hitting at better than a point-a-minute clip, the lanky pivotman ended the night with 41 points, just three short of the Coliseum scoring record. Dick Gunder of St. Mary dropped in 44 points two years ago.

Tiffin Gains Control

Roherback, reaching 6-5, and Dick Sullivan, 6-3, gave the visitors control of both boards although Larry Ryan and Pat O'Connor managed to pull in several rebounds.

After a slow start which saw Tiffin manage an 18-14 lead in the first period, the Calvert attack picked up. With Roherback tipping in rebounds and Sullivan and Phil Falter hitting on corner set shots, the visitors rolled to a 34-25 lead at the half. Roherback accounted for 20 points during the first half, all of them coming on tips and hook shots from under the basket.

Calvert hiked its lead to 50-35 at the start of the final period and then matched the Irish point for point during the rally.

Southpaw Mike Anderson paced the Irish attack with 23 markers. Butch Merchant finished with nine and Jerry Ballenger chipped in with eight. Johnny Messenger and Jon Smith, a frewshman, came in with seven each. Smith played only a few minutes in the final period.

The Irish reserves staved off a rally by the Calvert futures in the final frame to escape with a 33-25 verdict. The future Irish held their foes to single points in the first and second periods to take a 25-2 edge at the halfway mark. They led 30-9 at the start of the final period.

Dick Mounts collected 10 points to lead the way and Dave Kraft helped with eight. Big gun for the visitors was Jim Leahey with eight.

Play Aquinas

The St. Mary quintet will travel to Columbus Tuesday night for a game with Aquinas. Following that tilt, they will begin prepping for the annual holiday cage carnival at the Coliseum. The carnival, featuring St. Mary, Radnor, Elm Valley and Lexington, is scheduled Dec. 28 and 29.

The game Saturday night was delayed twice when the floor sections, laid over the ice of the skating rink, slipped apart.

Morral Defeats Wharton 75-44

Morral's once-beaten Wildcats rolled to a 75-44 victory over Wharton on the losers' floor Saturday night. A last quarter surge clinched the victory.

Coach Vern Hensel's crew led only 17-16 at the first quarter but began to pull away after that. Morral formed a 32-25 lead at intermission and widened the gap to 47-36 at the three quarter mark. A 28-point outburst in the fourth quarter sealed the win.

Clair Hensel, Wildcat forward, pumped in 29 points to pace the winners. Ted Murphy added 16 and John Craycraft dropped in 13. Musgrave was high for Wharton with 10.

Morral went down to a 35-32 defeat in the preliminary reserve tilt as Loveridge tallied 14 for Wharton. Mannie Saxton and Bob Williams each had 11 points for the losing Morral squad. LaRue is at Morral Tuesday.

No league games are scheduled until Jan. 5 but Sycamore, Nevada and McCutchenville are slated to play in holiday tournaments.

League games on Jan. 5 will take Sycamore to Harpster, Wharton to Salem and Marseilles to McCutchenville. In games played last Friday Sycamore took previously unbeaten McCutchenville 61-29; Nevada topped Marseilles 76-68 and Harpster won over Wharton 63-43. Harpster's Walcutt led the seventh round scoring with 35 points.

Michigan State Gridders Help In Hotel Blaze

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A group of Michigan State football players, here for the UCLA Rose Bowl game, organized into a fire-fighting and rescue crew yesterday when a blaze threatened the Huntington Hotel where they are quartered.

The fire, of undetermined origin, started shortly before noon in a basket in a linen closet on the third floor of the main hotel building.

Many of the players are housed on the same floor of the rambling, 300-room hotel. No one was injured, although a number of players helped firemen bring the blaze under control.

Fullback Evan Slonac unrolled a hose in the hallway and dragged it down the corridor toward the blaze.

Helping him on the hose detail were center Joe Badaczewski, tackle Jim Jebb, guard Alvin Lee and halfback Gene Lekenta.

Center Fred Rody, guard Alvin Lee, end Bill Quinlan and tackle Hank Bullock went from room to room to lead the occupants, many of them elderly, to safety.

Quinlan and Bullock wheeled one elderly woman in a wheel chair down to the lobby.

One woman appealed to Jebb to find her French poodle and the big tackle crawled into a smoke-filled room calling—"Here doggie, here doggie" until he located the poodle under a bed.

"It was a good thing the team was there," said Pasadena Fire Chief Stan Edmoundson. "That little guy with the hose (Slonac) took charge as well as any of my men could. And the big guy with the skinned nose (Quinlan) did a hell of a job too."

Three alarms brought seven companies of Pasadena city fire equipment to the scene.

The fire itself was limited to a small area around the linen closet and a nearby room but smoke and water damage was extensive. The damage was estimated at $25,000 by Edmoundson.

Most of the players involved took a dip in the hotel pool afterwards. Then they took off for a tour of Hollywood and a visit to a television show.

"All of them were heroes," said hotel Manager - owner Stephen Royce. "We certainly are grateful to the team."

Browns, Detroit Prep for Title Clash Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, who once thought championships were as easy to get as good conduct medals, make their second try Sunday to regain the National Football League crown they lost in 1951.

Coach Paul Brown, as cautious as he is eager to win, remarks his players "Haven't got it until they get it." But there's not much doubt the improved Browns are in a better position to beat the Detroit Lions this time than they were last year when the Lions dropped them in the championship playoff, 17-7.

Because the two top Cleveland pass-catchers—Dub Jones and Mac Speedie—were on the bench with injuries, the Lions were favored by a touchdown last year. This time the Browns ar picked by about the same margin, and for somewhat the same reasons.

All the Clevelanders, except linebacker Tommy Thompson, are in good shape physically, while the Lions will be without Pat Harder, their rugged blocking fullback whose knees gave out during the regular season.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Marion hockey fans have been talking themselves into a frenzy since the sudden scoring spurt by Wimpy Jones and the continued sparkling performance of Gordie Vejprava.

SHORT

The buzzing has continued until local fans are convinced the two will be snatched up immediately by the parent Cleveland Club. Jim Hendy, general manager of the Cleveland club, says, "Tain't so."

Jim admits both boys stand a good chance of making the Cleveland club but unless an emergency looms they will be left here. Hendy says he has always disliked seeing a bigger club rip apart its farm teams during a pennant drive.

Vejprava and the injured Jerry Prince were called up for a trial with the Barons three weeks ago and both came through with flying colors. However, both are expected to finish the present campaign here unless Cleveland needs help desperately late in the season.

Genial Jim admits he would like to see several of the younger skaters here with the Cleveland club but goes on to say he feels the extra experience being gained here will be more useful than a quick jump to the higher classification.

The quality of play here is spreading every day. Last Friday, while entering the Columbus West gymnasium for the Harding basketball game we were plied with questions regarding the game by West faculty members.

One teacher, particularly interested in skating, said he was happy the game had reached central Ohio. He has been unable to make the trip for any of the Wednesday tilts and had been worried about obtaining seats on Sunday. He indicated many of his friends and neighbors had also stayed away for that reason.

Group Selected For Study of Diamond Sport

NEW YORK (AP)—A nine-man committee of major and minor league executives appointed by Commissioner Ford Frick will study the basic structure of baseball "to see if we are on the proper ground."

"If we are not," Frick said in announcing the committee, "it is time to get on it."

The committee, called to meet Jan. 7, will go over such problems as the "reasonable" advancement of qualified players, unreasonable concentration of player talent and high bonus payments to untried youngsters.

Although Frick did not mention the Supreme Court decision on baseball in his announcement, the meeting date comes almost two months to the day after the high court ruled that baseball is not subject to federal antitrust laws. Frick commented after the Nov. 9 decision that "it does not mean that baseball is granted a license to do as it pleases."

West Virginia Gridders Open Sugar Bowl Drills

Francis Nets 48 Despite Attack, Sparks Rio to Win Over Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Not even an attack of appendicitis can stop the sensational scoring antics of Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the skinny sophomore center and sparkplug of Rio Grande College's basketball team.

Francis suffered a mild attack Saturday night during Rio's game with the University of Miami and spent the last few minutes of the first quarter on the bench.

The pains passed quickly and he re-entered the game and paced his mates to a 98-89 victory. The 6-foot-9 center wasn't up to his usual high-scoring form until the second half, but then he cut loose and picked up 32 points to bring his nights total to 48.

"Bevo came over to the bench and asked me to take him out when the pain got bad," Coach Newt Oliver reported. "In just a few minutes he said he was all right and asked me to send him back in. I told him I wasn't interested in winning if it might affect his health, but he insisted he was okay and I let him start the second quarter."

Francis said last night he planned to continue playing until the basketball season is over, barring a bad attack which would make an operation mandatory.

"If nothing else happens, I'll go ahead and finish the season and then have the operation," he said. "I wanted to have the operation last summer but I had to work to get money to go back to school."

Oliver planned to fly his team to Raleigh, N. C., today. Rio is scheduled to play North Carolina State tomorrow night and Wake Forest Wednesday night.

Caledonia Wins League Verdict

Caledonia notched its first Marion County League basketball win of the season Saturday night with an easy 57-26 win over New Bloomington on its home floor.

The winners led the entire route, jumping out front 16-10 in the opening period. Unable to hit, both teams managed only six points in the second period and 17 in the third but Caledonia turned the tilt into a rout with 25 markers in the final period.

Dickerson, Caledonia center, led his team with 17 points while Hunt added 12 and Rice dumped in 11. Johnson and Boles each had eight for the losers.

In the reserve encounter, Caledonia came through with a 42-27 win.

Holiday Week Brings Cut in Boxing Cards

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker, the big Pittsburgh heavyweight, is a surpising 2-1 favorite to even an old score with hard-hitting Clarence Henry of Philadelphia at Eastern Parkway Arena tonight.

Henry, once the world's third-ranking heavyweight, came from behind to knock out the 6-foot-4, 220-pound Baker in the eighth round at Madison Square Garden Nov. 23, 1951. That was the first defeat of Baker's pro career. He blamed bad hands for the loss.

Baker has been bothered with swelling hands all through his career but an operation is supposed to have made his mitts sound. Henry only recently returned to the ring after a long layoff caused by an eye injury.

The big boys will start swinging at 10 p.m., EST. Du Mont will telecast the 10-rounder to some parts of the country.

The International Boxing Club is passing its usual Wednesday and Friday night network television fights because of the Christmas week.

The only coast-to-coast network TV fight of the week will be beamed out of Boston's Mechanics Building Saturday night when welterweights Livio Minelli of Italy and Wilbur Wilson of Boston meet in a 10-rounder. Minelli is subbing for Danny (Bang Bang) Womber of Chicago. ABC will telecast starting at 9 p.m. EST.

Ashland's Cage Squad Races to Win at Galion

GALION — Led by 6-5 Ken Sidle who scored 19 points, Ashland High School had no difficulty in knocking off Galion High 73-55 here Friday night.

The visitors won the game during the first half, while Galion scored one more point than the visitors in the second stanza.

Top Cage Powers To Clash In Opening of Holiday Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Four of the biggest basketball players in captivity and a couple of "little" All American players swing into action tonight in a lively Monday night program that has six of the top 10 teams on the courts.

The four giants clash head on, with the biggest pair on exhibition at Corvallis, Ore., where top-rated Indiana meets Oregon State. Don Schlundt, 6-foot-10 center who helped the Hoosiers win the NCAA title and No. 1 ranking last year, for a change will look up at his opponent. Wade (Swede) Halbrook who measures 7 feet 3.

The other pair will meet at Champaign, Ill., with Oklahoma A&M's 6-11 Bob Mattick enjoying only a slight edge in height over 6-9 Johnny Kerr of Illinois.

The All America stars, Tom Gola of La Salle and Cliff Hagan of Kentucky, will play in the Kentucky Invitational Tourney at Lexington, first of the season's bumper crop of holiday basketball tournaments. They won't oppose each other tonight — La Salle meets UCLA and Kentucky plays Duke—but they probably will in the finals tomorrow.

Oregon State, just outside the top 10 at No. 11, will be counting on Halbrook to spring the upset of the season. The big boy looked great against Nebraska in State's last warmup Saturday, hitting on 10 of 23 field goal attempts and 9 of 11 free throws for 29 points in an 83-55 romp. That's 107 in four straight Oregon State victories for Halbrook, but Schlundt may hold him down.

Kerr dumped in 27 points Saturday as the Illini, ranked fourth in the country, won their fifth in a row and ended De Paul's six-game winning streak 79-65. He too will find life more difficult against Mattick, who has led the Aggies to a 7-1 record and a No. 7 ranking.

Kentucky and La Salle, like Indiana and Oklahoma A&M, were idle Saturday night. Duke, tuning up for the tournament, scored 12 straight points in the third quarter and hung on for a 67-64 victory over West Virginia. UCLA whaled Denver 66-45, but they'll still be underdogs. Kentucky is ranked second in the country.

Other top 10 teams in action are Minnesota and Louisiana State, who met with varying success Saturday night. Minnesota, No. 6 team, romped to a 74-46 victory over winless Colorado. But LSU probably lost the No. 5 spot to Wisconsin's pressing defense and accurate shooting. Big Bob Pettit scored 33 for LSU, but Wisconsin hit on 54 per cent of its shots for an 82-66 victory. Minnesota plays at Tulsa tonight and LSU entertains Northwestern.

Duquesne, rated third in the country, can thank its sensational sophomore, Si Green, that it escaped Louisiana State's fate against Toledo. With less than three minutes to play, Duquesne trailed by 3 but Green drove in for two field goals and Duquesne won 60-57.

Western Kentucky, No. 10, had to spurt at the end to down St. Bonaventure 82-76 behind Art Spoelstra's 28-point scoring, while Fordham, one notch higher, scored 23 in the last quarter for a 51-24 win over Columbia.

North Carolina State, No. 8, scored when it had to for an 89-74 victory over Penn State.

Strike Cripples Newspaper In Minneapolis

Teamsters' Walkout Shuts Off Delivery, Copies Sold in Lobby

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—News-hungry residents of this city of more than half a million population lined up again last night to purchase copies of the Minneapolis Tribune, sold only in the newspaper's main lobby since an AFL teamsters strike knocked out all truck deliveries.

The morning paper continued to publish but made no effort to deliver papers to homes or newsstands. Sales, made only in the lobby were limited to five copies per buyer.

Cut from the usual 620,000-run, only 75,000 copies of the Sunday edition were printed. All were sold by mid-afternoon. Last night sale of the Monday edition was brisk. Newsstands sold out all out-of-town papers they had.

The Evening Star also will be affected by the walkout. The two papers are owned by the same company and printed in the same plant.

Company officers said they would continue publishing both newspapers as long as limited newsprint supplies last. The drivers now on strike ordinarily haul the newsprint rolls to the plant.

George Wilson, federal labor conciliator, planned to contact both sides today to attempt to reopen negotiations, halted since Friday.

The union seeks a weekly pay increase of $4.56 for day work and $6.46 for night work, plus fringe benefits. Last Wednesday it rejected a company offer of $3.04 and $4.18 respectively. The drivers had been paid $2.14 an hour ($80.94) a week) for a five-day, 38-hour week for day work and $2.18 ($82.84 a week) for night work.

Arctic Clothing Studied By Oklahoma Professor

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A University of Oklahoma Medical School physiology professor is packing some 700 pounds of gadgets today for a flight to Fairbanks, Alaska, Christmas Day, and if it's warmer than 40 degrees below zero he says he'll be disappointed.

Dr. Paul Webb will be testing equipment to measure the body heat Air Force men at Ladd Field lose when they breathe arctic air.

He believes the experiment will determine the best type clothing and food for cold climates.

Nativity Scene Will Be Shown

Trinity Church Series Set To Start Tonight

First of the "Living Scenes of the Nativity" to be shown nightly preceding Christmas at the entrance way of Trinity Baptist Church on St. Main St. will be presented tonight. This scene will depict the prophets who predicted the birth of Christ.

A Yuletide tradition of the church, the tableaus will be shown each night through Christmas Eve from 7:15 until 9:30. As in other years, accompanying the various phases of the Bible narrative will be recorded music and lighting effects, colorful costumes will be used, and live anilmals will have a place in the production.

Tuesday night, the "Inn of Bethlehem" will be the theme, and on Wednesday night, a group of shepherds on a hillside with an angelic choir in the background will be portrayed.

VFW, Auxiliary Hold Yule Party For 200 Children

Some 200 underprivileged children were guests of the Marion Veterans of Foreign Wars Post for a Christmas party Saturday.

Christmas carols, a magic show, stories and candy were featured in the program. Santa Claus gave out stockings filled with candy and toys to each of the children. The magic show was presented by Dominic Sansotta. Miss Beth Kallis of the Salvation Army told them Christmas stories.

Among those present were children from the Marion County Children's Home, as well as those given help by the Salvation Army, the VFW post, and the auxiliary.

Chester Dye of the post, and Mrs. Dena Niedenfuhr and Mrs. Laura Belle Jevas of the auxiliary were in charge of the arrangements for the party. This was the second time a Christmas party for the underprivileged children of the city has been sponsored by the post. Members indicate they intend to make it an annual affair.

Marion Wins 8-1 From League-Leading Johnstown

Barons Score 5 in Opening Period Then Coast to Win

The Marion Barons continued their drive for the top spot in the International Hockey League yesterday with an easy 8-1 win over league-leading Johnstown.

The Barons are now tied for third place with Troy which downed second-place Cincinnati 4-2 yesterday. The Mohawks were whipped by an identical score Saturday by Grand Rapids and now hold only a one-point edge over the Baron and Troy. Marion and Troy each have 32 points for third place while the Mohawks are in second with 33. The Jets, at the top of the loop, have 36 points.

Streak Broken

The Marion win Sunday snapped a streak of six games without a loss for the Jets. Their last loss was a 5-3 defeat by the Troy Bruins on Dec. 3 although they were tied 2-2 by Louisville on Dec. 8. In the last 11 games prior to yesterday Johnstown had been beaten once.

The Barons wasted little time in the Sunday game. Five goals were scored in the first frame and the decision was clinched.

Dutch Delmonte opened the parade after 3:38 had passed. He was assisted by Steve Brklacich and Gordon Vejprava. The Jets' Arthur Dorrington knotted the count at the 4:11 mark on a combination pass from Bill Gallagher and Cliff McArthur. Murray Wilkie put the Barons ahead to stay at 11:52 when he scored after taking a pass from Ted Lebioda. Delmonte followed at 15:50 with his second goal. Tony Poeta was credited with an assist. Wimpy Jones added a goal at 18:28 with assists going to Vejprava and Delmonte. Wilkie scored again less than a minute later. He notched the goal after a pass from Joe Ingoldsby. Two Marion players, Brklacich and Kenny Schultz were banished to the penalty box with 10-minute misconduct penalties in that first period.

The penalty against Schultz was called late in the period and it extended into the second stanza. He returned to action just in time to notch the only goal of the period. After 15:16 had passed, Schultz took a pass from Coach Ott Heller at center ice and went all the way for the score. He added the Barons' seventh goal after 6:20 had elapsed in the final period. Hal Jones set him up for the score with a pass from the center of the rink. Heller closed the scoring with an unassisted goal at the 7:04 mark. He skated in and shot from the point to blast the score past the Jets' goalie, Claude Roy.

The Baron forward wall gave Roy a rugged test. He batted out 41 attempts at the nets by the Marion skaters. Lou Crowdis handled 24 Johnstown shots.

Paul Emms was scheduled to leave the team today. He is returning to Toronto due to the illness of his baby daughter, Sue. The child is being treated in a Toronto hospital. It is not known when Emms will be able to return to the team. He has been playing at right wing on the line centered by Joe Ingoldsby with Murray Wilkie at the left wing.

Tony Hemmerling, general manager of the Marion club, is scheduled to attend an International League meeting at Detroit Tuesday. The meeting has been called by league president Frank Gallagher. The club officials will discuss league finances.

The Barons will be idle until next Sunday afternoon when they play host to the Louisville Shooting Stars at the Coliseum rink. Following that game they will meet Troy's Bruins here on Dec. 30 before playing their next road game at Toledo on Jan. 2.

Passing Battle Predicted for Shrine Benefit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Football fans who like their games heavily flavored with passes should find the Shrine's annual North-South all-star game Christmas night very much to their liking.

Both squads are well equipped with quarterbacks who know how to throw the ball and backs and ends who are adept receivers.

South Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami has one of the most spectacular aerial combinations in the nation in the Georgia battery of quarterback Zeke Bratkowski and end John Carson. They were tops in the Southeastern Conference last year and high among the national leaders.

Bratkowski, equally at ease with long and short throws, hit Carson and Bob Ondilla of Wake Forest repeatedly in yesterday's workouts.

"I've seen a lot of passers in my time," said Gustafson, "and I'd put the Brat up there with the best of them."

Will he emphasize a passing game against Purdue Coach Stu Holcomb's North squad?

"With Bratkowski in the quarterback slot, what else can you expect?" Gustafson remarked.

The South coaches didn't overlook their other signal caller, John Bordogna of Nebraska, however.

"He runs and has a lot of deception," said Missouri Coach Don Faurot, the father of the split-T attack the South will use. "Both these boys have worked out of the split-T before and are capable ball handlers."

Over in the North Camp, Holcomb had praise for his squad after yesterday's workouts.

"I think we looked much better today," he said. "The boys are showing considerable improvement. All our quarterbacks were throwing good and the receiving also was good."

Harding Meets Findlay Cagers Tuesday Night

Harding, attempting to break a two-game losing streak before the new year, appears in its final game of 1953 Tuesday when it journeys to Findlay for a clash with Findlay's once-powerful Trojans. It will mark Harding's second Buckeye League contest.

Findlay is experiencing a rough season for the first time in many years. It will bring a 2-3 mark into the fray, 1-0 of which is in Buckeye League competition.

The hosts dumped Tiffin Columbian 51-47 in a Buckeye League game Friday night. Big guns for the victors in the tilt were sophomores John Johnson and Rodney Shafer. Johnson dumped in 14 markers and Shafer added 12. Ray Siferd totaled nine, Garnes six and David Miller and Tom Gulker each five.

In Findlay's latest outing Saturday night, Lima Central outscored the Trojans 43-33. In earlier action, Findlay had beaten Berea and lost to Van Wert and Bexley.

Last season, Findlay dropped Harding twice. However Findlay—under suspension by the Ohio athletic association for playing a junior high school cager—could not count the games as wins.

The locals will be seeking their first Buckeye League win of the year after losing to Bowling Green Friday 76-53 here. An earlier loss to Columbus West after wins over Bexley, Galion, Willard and Columbus Aquinas gave Jim Lawler's charges their second straight loss of the campaign.

Harding will probably start Ron Conroy, 5-8½, and Don Smith, 5-7, at guards; Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at Center; and Doug Bibler, 5-7, and Bob Hamor, 5-11, at forwards.

In Harding's six games to date, Conroy has been the big gun with 95 points. Hamor has notched 70, Smith 62, Bibler 57, and Schnelker 51.

RAMS AT LIMA

UPPER SANDUSKY — The Upper Sandusky High cage quintet, winners in two of four games, will travel to Lima Shawnee Tuesday night. The Rams won their season opener with Ada here and Friday night defeated Mansfield Madison by a 49-36 tally. Trips to Kenton and Crestline between the two games here resulted in defeats for the Rams. Northern Ohio League play will open Jan. 15 with Bellevue here.

EX-TIGERS NOW MANAGERS

DETROIT (AP) — Jerry Priddy and Billy Hitchcock, who played for the Detroit Tigers in 1953, are now managers in the minor leagues Priddy will pilot the Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League. Hitchcock will manage the Buffalo Bisons of the International League.

U.S. Packs Harder Punch Than Reds, Twining Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, said today America's air offense still packs a harder punch than Russia's—but he warned that the Soviet Union is making "a tremendous effort to overcome that lead."

The Air Force chief also said in a copyrighted interview in the magazine "U.S. News and World Report" that the United States is in better position to strike through the air, should war come, than to defend herself against air assault.

He suggested the Soviets may be trailing in development of a potent air offense because the Russians have had practically no wartime experience with strategic, long-range operations.

Twining said American air superiority would cut down any advantage the Russians might enjoy from big land armies.

Huntington Man Admits Holdup of Taxi Driver

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP)—Robbery charges were to be filed today against a man who robbed a cab driver of $41 after forcing him to drive from Huntington, W. Va., into Gallia County.

The victim was Stanley Bryant of Huntington, who also was forced out of his cab. Sheriff George Ehman of Gallia County said the charges will be filed against Java Colemanno, 21, Huntington.

West Virginia state troopers arrested Colemanno yesterday while he was visiting a friend at the Lakin State Hospital near Point Pleasant.

Eric Nesterenko of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League hails from the small community of Flin Flon, Manitoba.
